Socreds Win In Alberta; Majority Cut

One Cabinet Minister Defeated Two Others Trail; Count Continues

EDMONTON (CP)—Alberta's Social Credit government faced a stronger opposition today as it continued on the road leading to a quarter-century of uninterrupted power.

The party which has governed Alberta for 20 years was returned for its sixth consecutive term in Wednesday's general election with a mandate which will carry it through the next four or five years with a firm majority.

But the Liberals who formed the official opposition in the last House gained strength and increased their popular vote at the expense of the Social Credit forces.

When counting ended Wednesday night this was the party standing compared with the result of the 1952 election:

	1955	1952
SC	32	52
Lib	6	4

Lib-PC	1	—
Cln	1	—
Ind	1	—
Ind-SC	—	1
CCF	1	2
Dbtfl	18	—
Total	61	61

The Social Credit popular vote decreased to 49 per cent from 56 per cent while the Liberal popular increased to 30 from 22 per cent

It was Social Credit's fourth election victory under the leadership of Premier E. C. Manning, who combines religious work with politics. He took over after the death in 1943 of William Aberhart, who founded the Social Credit party in Alberta and led it in the 1935 sweep.

MINISTER DEFEATED

Mr. Manning and Liberal leader J. Harper Prowse were re-elected. It was Mr. Prowse's third election since he took over the party leadership in 1947. Liberals have been out of power since 1921.

Eight cabinet ministers were returned. But Lands and Forests Minister Ivan Casey was defeated in Okotoks-High River by Ross Ellis, a Liberal-Progressive Conservative.

BENNETT SENDS BEST WISHES

Premier W. A. C. Bennett Wednesday night congratulated Alberta Premier E. C. Manning on the Social Credit victory in Alberta's provincial general election.

In a telegram to Manning, the premier said: "Heartiest congratulations on your personal victory, and the re-election of your government."

Liberals Show 8% Increase In Popular Vote

PCs Double Vote; Socreds Down 8%

EDMONTON (CP) — Alberta polled a record provincial election vote Wednesday. The winning Social Credit party's share was reduced to 48 per cent from its 56 per cent in the last two elections.

Reports from 2,549 of 2,984 polls showed 307,387 votes cast. Many city polls were still to come when the tabulation was made at 10:30 a.m. and there was no doubt the final total would exceed the previous high of 308,864 in 1940.

The Liberal party's share of the vote rose by the margin Social Credit's fell. Liberals received 30 per cent of the vote compared with 22 in the 1952 election, CCF nine per cent compared with 14, Progressive Conservatives seven per cent compared with four.

The party vote compared with vote in the last election, (percentages bracketed):

	1955	1952
SC	147,382 (48)	167,789 (56)
Lib	93,930 (30)	66,738 (22)
CCF	26,853 (9)	41,929 (14)
PC	21,264 (7)	10,791 (4)
Others	17,968 (6)	10,908 (4)
Totals	307,387	298,335

These figures, however, do not indicate total number of voters but number of votes cast. In this election there was one six-member constituency, in which each voter could mark his ballot for six candidates, and one seven-member constituency in which he could vote for seven.

Fraser River Flood Peak Saturday

VANCOUVER (CP) — Dike patrols are maintaining a round-the-clock watch on British Columbia's rivers, swollen by the annual mountain runoff and five straight days of rain.

Some flash flooding was reported as small creeks and rivers spilled over their banks but major rivers appeared under control.

J. L. MacDonald, B.C. diking commissioner, said he was confident dikes strengthened after the disastrous 1948 flood will withstand the onrushing waters.

He said present indications were the river would peak at about 23 feet at Mission by Saturday. The dikes are built to withstand a 27-foot level.

WIRE BRIEFS

CLOVERDALE, B.C. (BUP) —Joyce Edward, 13, was dragged to death by a horse that she was leading to the home of a neighbor here Wednesday afternoon.

Cyprus Parley Asked

LONDON (BUP) — Prime Minister Anthony Eden announced today that Britain has invited Greece and Turkey to confer with her on the increasing nationalist violence on the Mediterranean island of Cyprus.

Mainland Gas Death

VANCOUVER (CP) — Grover Cleveland Donaldson, 51, died of domestic gas poisoning here Wednesday and his landlady, Mrs. Michael Zenko, said she believed a new gas plate safety device was faulty.

March on London Planned By Strikers

LONDON (UP) — Rebellious dock strikers in northern British ports announced today a 10-day 200-mile "March on London" to protest back-to-work orders by the powerful Trades Union Congress.

Drew Urges Government Find Job for Gen. Simonds

OTTAWA (BUP)—Opposition leader George Drew urged in the Commons today that the government find a job in Canada or outside it for Lt. Gen. Guy Simonds, 52, who retires as chief of the general staff on a $10,500 a year pension Aug. 31.

Drew renewed criticism of the government's handling of Simonds' retirement, which was announced earlier this month. He questioned Defence Minister Ralph Campney's explanation that it was the logical result of a policy of automatic rotation. The minister said two weeks ago that the end of Simonds' normal four-year term would be about seven months over its limit by the time he steps out.

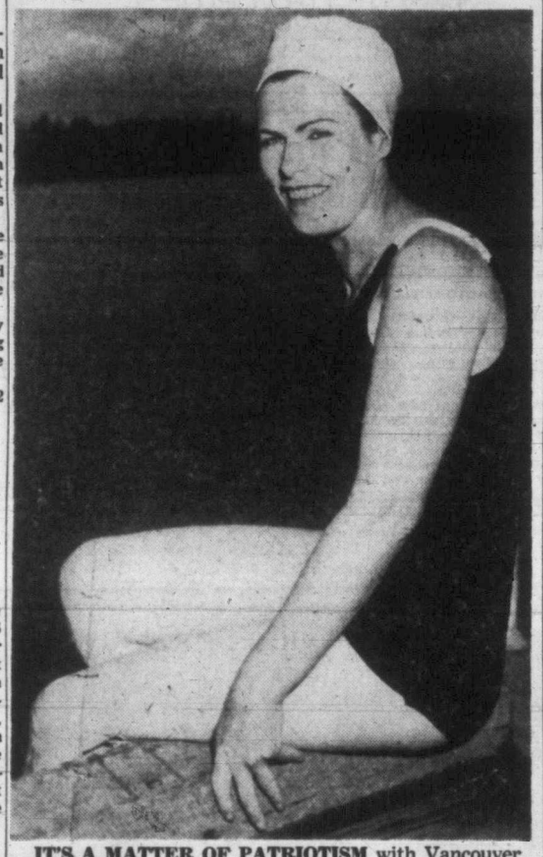
Reds To Buy 10 Million Bushels Canadian Wheat

She'll Swim From Here



IT'S A MATTER OF PATRIOTISM with Vancouver distance swimmer, 36-year-old Mrs. Ann Meraw,—she'll start from the Canadian side of Juan de Fuca Strait in spite of the Port Angeles offer of $1,800 for the reverse-direction swim. Swim date is settled, will be announced day before she starts, sometime between July 5 and 12. She is training off Sidney wharf.

ATOMS FOR PEACE

Too Soon for Ocean Liners

(This is another in a series of 12 articles discussing the prospects and problems of harnessing atomic power to peaceful uses. The author is a distinguished science reporter who spent a year collecting the material from which the articles were written. He has written this from a U.S. point of view, but since Canada is taking a leading part in atomic production for peacetime uses the general theme applies to this country.)

Chapter 5

"THE ATOM AT SEA"

We come now to the already famous submarine projects, the Nautilus and the Sea Wolf. Strange as Jules Verne fiction, it is in the depths of the sea that atomic power is to have its first real use.

The "Nautilus" was launched at Groton, Conn., on Jan. 21, 1954, and now is making her trial runs. The "Sea Wolf" is about two years behind.

There has never been a "real" submarine. All so far have been primarily surface vessels that were tight and strong enough to travel briefly under water.

Their below-surface existence has been temporary and difficult because of their prime requirement of oxygen for their Diesel engines, they have been limited to brief runs on storage batteries.

Their speed has been very poor—10 to 12 knots. At best, they have had an under-water cruising range of less than 100 miles.

The "Nautilus," however, will be a true submarine vessel, as her creator, Rear Admiral Hyman G. Rickover, USN, has dubbed her. Her atomic engines require no oxygen, and so can turn out full power beneath the sea for as long as the fuel lasts.

The uranium charge is said to be sufficient for 30,000 miles, and the "Nautilus" can use it all up without surfacing at all.

The "Nautilus" is designed to cruise down under at 20 knots and can do 25 with the control rods full out. This is close to 30 miles an hour—faster than most fish.

The atomic machinery of the "Nautilus" is a marvel of compactness that should have a profound influence on the effective design of all future reactors.

The heart of the atomic pile, with its charge of enriched uranium, is contained in a massive high-pressure drum, built to withstand 2,000 pounds per square inch.

Highly purified cooling water, pumped through it at this pressure, carries the intense heat of fission out to the heat exchanger, where it makes steam for the turbines, at 600 degrees.

When the sub is under way, every sort of safety device will protect her crew, including a "scram light."

If this flashes, the men will leave the vicinity of the reactor

UNSETTLED WEATHER GONZALES MAN SAYS

Weatherman Bill Mackie says "unsettled" conditions, with cloudy and sunny periods mixed with showers are in store for the Dominion Day week-end. It will be cool with westerly winds from 20 to 25 mph and temperatures ranging from 50 to 60 degrees.

Main July 1 attractions which could be affected by adverse weather conditions are afternoon opening of harness racing at Sandown Park and "I am a Canadian" day ceremonies at the Legislative grounds at night.

Racing opens at 2.30, with Canadian day ceremonies beginning at 7.30 p.m.

Muir Swims Saturday From Port Angeles

Saanich Surveyor To Be First To Take Off From the South Shore

Tenth assault on Juan de Fuca Strait since Florence Chadwick started the channel swim rage last August is scheduled Saturday.

Saanich municipal surveyor Bill Muir said today he will make his second attempt at beating the 18.3 miles of frigid, tide-churned water, starting from the American shore.

He plans to plunge from Ediz Hook off Port Angeles at about 7 a.m. Saturday.

Bert Thomas announced also he will make his next attempt from Port Angeles, thus attempting to capitalize on both the Times $1,000 prize and a Port Angeles Chamber of Commerce $1,800 prize for the first person to swim the distance.

LONG PLANNED

The Saanich man's plans have nothing to do with the Port Angeles prize fund announced Thursday. His intention of swimming from the U.S. shore was made known to the Times in confidence two days ago.

Muir, following the navigation of fisherman Alf Webb, made a remarkable nine-mile swim from Gonzales Point last Saturday, but gave up when cramps put his legs out of action.

WILL BE ELIGIBLE

He will be eligible, however, for the U.S. prize money as well as the $1,000 offered by the Victoria Daily Times in his Saturday swim try.

Officials in Port Angeles told the Times $400 of an $1,800 fund have been collected from Port Angeles merchants and it is hoped the full amount will have been donated by Saturday.

The $1,800 will represent $100 per mile for the 18 miles of strait water.

The full amount will be paid the first person to swim the strait starting from the U.S. side, and the $100-a-mile idea behind the fund does not mean challengers will be paid for the number of miles they swim.

NEW NAVIGATOR

Muir will have a new navigator, Harold Phillips, the man who drifted in a boat two days and nights in the strait nine years ago.

Phillips said he believes tides would be of more benefit if used in swimming south-to-north rather than the opposite direction.

"I've never been in that water over there," Muir said, "but if I do flake out this time I'll be within shouting distance of Victoria.

"If I make it from the other side maybe I'll make enough to train for a Victoria-Port Angeles swim."

OFFICIAL BOAT

All 10 Strait challengers to date have attempted the stormy crossing from this side.

Official navigator's boat for Muir will be the Atlast, which will leave Royal Victoria Yacht Club with Muir about 5 a.m. Saturday for the trip to Port Angeles.

Died Today

Agent-general in London, England, for B.C. until retirement in 1930, Frederick Arthur Pauline died here today aged 93. He was at one time Saanich MLA, Speaker of the House, city alderman and board of trade president. Funeral will be Saturday. (See story page 19).

U.S. Doubles Champs Lose To Aussies

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) —Ken Rosewall and Neale Fraser today defeated Tony Trabert of Cincinnati and Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, the victorious American team in the last Davis Cup competition, 6-2, 1-6, 6-1, 4-6, 6-3 in the semi-finals of the Wimbledon tennis championships.

The victory for the third-seeded Aussies over the top-seeded Americans assured an all-Australian doubles final.

Rosewall and Fraser will meet the winner of the other semi-final between Lew Hoad and Rex Hartwigg and Mervyn Rose and George Worthington.

The upset of Trabert and Seixas came after Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., had turned back Darlene Hard of Long Beach, Cal., 6-3, 8-6, in the first of the all-American women's singles semi-finals.

Grain Needed for Poland; Guaranteed Loan By Ottawa Would Finance Purchase

OTTAWA (CP)—Communist Poland is negotiating to buy about 10,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat under a bank loan to be guaranteed by the Canadian government, it was learned today.

Negotiations, which are nearing the final stage, cover the supply of grades 4 and 5 wheat at current prices.

Informants said new negotiations may be opened at a later date covering the sale of surplus Canadian butter. Another Russian Satellite, Czechoslovakia, recently made a deal to obtain some 300,000 pounds of Canadian butter at a sharply reduced price.

Normally, Poland is not a customer for Canadian wheat. The current negotiations would cover the biggest shipment to that country since the Second World War and appeared to be an indication that grain is scarce behind the Iron Curtain.

ADENAUER TO MOSCOW

BONN, Germany (UP) — A spokesman for the West German government said today Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has accepted the Soviet invitation to visit Moscow to discuss Soviet-German relations.

The spokesman said the chancellor's note of acceptance would be handed to the Soviet embassy in Paris later today.

Only Poland Negotiating So Far

First reports from London were that Russia is buying some 600,000 tons of Canadian wheat for two of her satellites: Poland and Hungary.

However, informants here said the only negotiations at present are with Poland and these are being developed directly.

Under terms of the sale, Poland likely will pay 15 per cent of the cost as a down-payment and get a loan from a Canadian bank for the remainder. The loan would be underwritten by the Canadian government.

The wheat would be shipped in two movements: the first portion in the fall of 1955 and the second in the spring of 1956.

Earlier, Alexandre Lobatchev, Russia's commercial counsellor, said he has received no instructions from Moscow to buy wheat from Canada.

At the moment, he said, Russia was interested in selling goods to Canada to earn dollars. Once the Soviet got these dollars, it would be able to buy from Canada.

He was commenting on a dispatch appearing in the London Daily Express which said that Russia wants to buy 25,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat for early delivery. The newspaper said the price would be about £16,000,000.

Canadian trade department officials said also that they know of no negotiations with Russia for the sale of Canadian wheat. They said that Russia has shown almost no interest in buying Canadian goods of any kind in recent months.

Canada's Sales to Russia, Low

Last year, Russia purchased some Canadian barley and surplus pork. Total Canadian exports to the Soviet Union amounted to about $4,800,000 in 1954, up from a mere $478 in 1953. However, in the first four months of 1955, Canada's total exports to Russia mounted to a nominal $1,000.

Mr. Lobatchev said the Soviet must earn dollars in Canada to be able to buy from Canada. Russia had chemicals, cottons "and many other goods to sell." But it could find few Canadian buyers. Canada's total imports from the Soviet amounted to $687,000 in 1954, down from $824,000 in 1953. Imports consisted mostly of furs.

LONDON (CP)—The Daily Express sees Red purchases of Canadian wheat as significant in assessing the Russian farm economy.

A New York dispatch by Rene MacColl, which the newspaper makes its main front-page story, says:

"This news means that the massive project to grow grain in the virgin lands of eastern Russia—initiated by Nikita Khrushchev, the Soviet's political boss—is faltering," MacColl writes.

". . . If Russia needs foreign wheat so badly, the farm situation in her huge experimental grainlands must be very bad."

Reports have been current for some time that Russia's agricultural situation is disappointing.

When former Soviet premier Georgi Malenkov was deposed last February, one reason given was that he had "failed in agriculture."

Golf Leader Sleeps In, Disqualified

VANCOUVER (CP)—Jimmy Clark of Laguna Beach, Calif., who fired a brilliant 66 Wednesday for second place in the opening 18 holes of the $15,000 B.C. open, was disqualified today when he failed to show up for his starting time.

Ray O'Brien, president of the U.S. Professional Golfers' Association and the man in charge of the tournament, said Clark slept in at his hotel and was automatically disqualified.

Tommy Bolt of Houston, Tex., held a temporary lead at the 27-hole mark with a six-under par 103.

Sam Snead, colorful West Virginian, who finished well back with a 71 Wednesday, began to find the range with his putter and was three under par after nine holes.

Times crossworders for the fifth straight week failed to come up with a correct solution to last week's puzzle. As a result the bonus prize for the new puzzle, which appears on page 18, is $200.

Because of the holiday tomorrow the answer to the last puzzle, No. 117, which usually appears Fridays, will be carried in Saturday's editions.

Britain Proposes East, West Both Guarantee German Frontier

LONDON (UP)—Britain has conceived a new European security plan calling on both Russia and the West to guarantee the frontiers of a united Germany against any aggression, informed sources disclosed today.

The plan, drafted by Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden and his top advisers, would leave the tricky question of Germany's final boundaries open for future settlement.

The major powers of both East and West would agree under the plan to act together against any state which attacked Germany after she has been reunited, the sources said.

The details of the plan are being completed for discussion with the United States and France before the start of the Geneva Big Four meeting, the sources said.

Auto Dealers Lose Bid for Rebates

(From CP and BUP Dispatches)

Finance Minister Harris says auto dealers, like other merchants, must take any loss on goods in stock resulting from a federal budget reduction in excise tax.

That was his final reply Wednesday to repeated demands that car dealers get a rebate of the April 5 budget's tax cut for new cars in stock on which they had paid the higher tax.

Mr. Harris said the auto excise tax reduction, to 10 per cent from 15, was an estimated $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 on cars in dealers' hands at budget time.

There is no doubt dealers suffered some loss, he said. But it did not follow that they lost the exact amount of the tax cut and he could not depart from the general rule against rebates.

Bills amending the income and excise tax laws were passed. Another measure dealing with various tariff changes was approved, all but the final reading.

The main budget tax change is a cut in personal income tax averaging 10 per cent, effective Friday, and a corporation tax reduction to 45 per cent from 47 retroactive to Jan. 1. Corporations also pay a two-per-cent tax to the old age pension fund.

CCF leader Coldwell and J. M. Macdonnell (PC—Toronto Greenwood) were among several members requesting that charitable organizations be exempted from the 10-per-cent sales tax on their purchases.

Mr. Harris replied it would involve too much administrative work in handling their claims for tax refunds. Charities were helped effectively by the income tax provisions for deduction of donations from taxable incomes.

CCF Leader Lodges Tariff Protest

Mr. Coldwell protested one tariff proposal to enable the government to increase tariffs on imported goods subsidized in the exporting country. He said it threatens Canada's trading policy and gives the government too wide powers.

Mr. Harris replied it is designed to prevent underselling of Canadian goods in Canada by subsidized imports.

Fred S. Zaplitny (CCF-Dauphin) said a proposed new 10-per-cent tariff on ethylene glycol, used to make anti-freeze, will permit two firms, Dow Chemical Co. and Dominion Tar and Chemicals Co., to achieve their goal of cornering the Canadian market for anti-freeze.

William Benidickson, parliamentary assistant to Mr. Harris, referred to two other tariff reductions—to 10 per cent from 20 on mixed or blended glycol and to 15 per cent from 20 for finished anti-freeze. He said the total effect is merely a re-arrangement of the tariff schedule on that group of products and would not mean higher consumer prices for anti-freeze.

In the Senate Wednesday, Senator Ralph Horner (PC-Saskatchewan) tried to block passage of a bill boosting annual salaries of federally-appointed judges by $2,500. He failed for want of a seconder to his motion.

Agreed Charges Bill Modified

The government decided Wednesday to modify its controversial agreed-charges legislation to give persons opposed to any agreed charge a better chance to get it reviewed.

The legislation had run into opposition before the railway committee on the ground it narrowed complainants' access to the railway-regulating board of transport commissioners.

Transport Minister Marler's bill is aimed at making it easier for the railways to establish these contract rates with shippers. As placed before the Commons, it would make any complaintant go to the minister for permission to get a board hearing.

At present, qualified complainants may go direct to the board. Truckers are excluded and would continue to be under the new legislation.

Mr. Marler offered the committee an amendment Wednesday which would continue the ministerial discretion but in addition would empower the cabinet on its own initiative to refer any agreed charge to the transport board which it felt was not in the public interest, whether it placed any other form of transportation at an unfair disadvantage.

The board would determine

A Commons-Senate committee said Wednesday it has not had time this session to formulate any recommendations on whether present laws governing capital and corporal punishment and lotteries should be changed.

The committee, in an interim report tabled in the Commons, proposed that it be re-established next session to complete a final report on the three questions. It is expected the government will comply.

Conservative members renewed their demands Wednesday night for reform of the Senate.

Angus MacLean PC-Queens, P.E.I. said the government "has been neglecting its moral . . . and legal responsibility" in failing to fill the upper chamber's 22 vacancies. The government's delay, he said, amounted to "sabotage of the upper chamber."

Harry O. White PC-Middlesex East said the Senate's prestige "is at an all-time low." He contended that "not once in 10 years has it tried to protect the rights of minorities or the rights of individuals."

Walter Dinsdale PC-Brandon-Souris said the Senate had become, in the public mind, a "tragic joke . . . and a laughing matter." He said that "with the trend in Canada towards a one-party state in evidence since the end of the war" the function of the upper chamber should be regarded as of prime importance.

The Conservatives raised the question of Senate reform as a grievance on a government supply motion submitted Monday.

Peron Attempts To Make Peace With Catholics

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (Delayed by Censorship)—(UP) — Authoritative diplomatic sources said today that President Juan D. Peron, recently excommunicated by the Vatican for actions against the Church, has cabled a report on Church-state relations to Pope Pius XII.

(The move apparently was the latest in a series of steps designed to patch up relations between the Roman Catholic Church and the Argentina government.)

Peron's cable was sent to the Vatican on the occasion of the Feast of St. Peter and St. Paul, traditionally known as "Pontiff's Day" in honor of the first Pope of the Church.

It was understood the text of the cable will be made public soon. In the interim, no details of the communication were made available.

It was announced today (June 30), that Santiago Luis Cardinal Copello has resumed control of the Catholic hierarchy in Argentina.

This move, coupled with Peron's report to the Vatican, was believed the outgrowth of a government shake-up which could mean an early end to the bitter Church-state controversy.

Steel Union Aims At Reuther's Mark As Deadline Nears

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The U. S. steel industry today began grinding toward a halt with labor negotiators striving to avert a complete strike shutdown at midnight tonight.

There still were substantial hopes an 11th-hour settlement could keep steel mills humming in their near-capacity production, but the whole situation depended on what happens in today's crucial bargaining sessions.

The U. S. Steel Corp. and other major producers already had started banking furnaces and stilling the fires that produce the ribbons of molten metal which are the lifeblood of industrial output.

John A. Stephens, U.S. Steel's principal negotiator, hinted at a new management wage offer exceeding the average 10-cent-an-hour wage increase proposal rejected by the United Steelworkers Union (CIO). The bargaining affected 600,000 workers in 96 basic steel and iron ore mining firms. They now average $2.33 an hour.

USW president David J. McDonald, pointing out that the rejected 10-cent offer was only half of the recent auto industry settlement, seemed to be shooting to equal or better the 20-cent-an-hour settlement claimed by president Walter Reuther of the United Auto Workers (CIO).

Sault Steelmen Vote for Strike

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (BUP) — Fifteen hundred steel workers voted Wednesday night to strike if necessary to win unspecified wage demands from the Algoma Steel Company of Canada.

The vote was intended to strengthen the hand of the CIO United Steelworkers Union in current negotiations.

Sunburn Pain Disappears Smooth Tan Emerges Without Peeling or Blistering
Science Discovers New Ointment That Instantly Stops Pain of Sunburn...Turns Redness Into Comfortable Tan
Toronto, Ont. (Special): A leading research institution has discovered a new medical substance that instantly stops pain of sunburn . . . and prevents blistering or peeling, so angry redness may turn to handsome, comfortable tan.
Doctors know sunburn affects skin just as ordinary burns do. They also know the body needs oxygen for healing burns. The secret of this new substance is its astonishing ability to draw healing oxygen and nutrients directly from blood-stream into sunburned area. Thus, sunburned skin heals completely and, except in unusual cases, smooth tan emerges.
This substance is known as Sperti* Ointment. Sperti Ointment does not sting or stain. Now sold at all drug stores for $1.19 a large tube. Buy Sperti Ointment with amazing guarantee that your sunburn will turn to handsome tan, or your money is refunded.

Schweppes Tonic Water makes you feel 10° cooler inside!

When the picture above was taken, it was 88° in the shade. So Commander Whitehead, Schweppes' bearded ambassador to Canada, demonstrated the ideal way to cool off between chukkers by drinking Schweppes Tonic Water. The Commander says that Schweppes made him feel 10° cooler inside. Who could ask for anything more refreshing?

World's most refreshing drink

The cooling effect of a tonic drink made with Schweppes comes from two sources. First, it is an iced drink. Second, Schweppes has a cooling taste which is difficult to describe but impossible to miss. Schweppes tingling, bitter-sweet impact on your tongue can turn infernal heat into thoroughly bearable weather. Note, too how the Schweppes bubbles do not waste themselves exploding in the bottle . . . or even in the glass. Each little bubble bursts upon your tongue, heightening the flavour of your tonic drink. This is called Schweppervescence . . . and it lasts the whole drink through.

Made from the true, original elixir

The original Schweppes elixir is imported from England, and Schweppes Tonic Water is bottled right here in Canada. That means you can enjoy Schweppes at popular prices. Ask for Schweppes wherever you go — and make a jolly good racket if they try to palm off something else on you.

P.S.: Schweppes also make the emperor of all the Ginger Ales, and a great Club Soda. Enjoy the whole family of Schweppes world-famous beverages — Schweppes Tonic Water, Schweppes Ginger Ale and Schweppes Club Soda.

CATHOLICS SAY 'CITY SHAMED'

Papal Flag Below Union Jack Brings Demand Mayor Resign

LACHUTE, Que. (CP) — Dr. Frederick W. FitzGerald, mayor of Lachute, has been asked to resign for ordering a papal flag to be placed below the Union Jack on the flag pole at Memorial Park here, following a Roman Catholic congress.

A letter requesting the resignation of the English-speaking Protestant mayor was approved Wednesday night by some 500 shirt-sleeved residents—mostly French-speaking Catholics—in an orderly, almost apologetic, meeting at the city auditorium in the city hall building in this residential town of 7,100 persons, 40 miles west of Montreal.

The letter, signed by "a committee of citizens" and purporting to speak for a "group of Catholic citizens of Lachute," was handed to pro-mayor J. E. Charlebois for presentation to Dr. FitzGerald at the next regular city council session, probably next Wednesday.

The mayor did not attend the meeting and could not be reached Wednesday night for comment. Today, however, he said in a telephone interview he is "disregarding" the demand for his resignation.

"It was an illegal meeting and I was not present. I have not seen their statement so I am disregarding it for the present."

By ordering two city constables to replace the papal flag at the top of the flagpole by a Union Jack, the mayor had "brought shame to the city of Lachute," the letter said.

The controversy began after members of the Canadian Legion are reported to have requested that the Union Jack take precedence on the pole's top. The papal ensign—yellow emblems on a gold field—had flown throughout a five-day Eucharistic Congress that ended last weekend.

Before the meeting, there had been some misgivings that the issue would boil over in Lachute, where 7 per cent of the people are French-speaking Roman Catholics. By friendly traditon, the mayoralty is alternated between French and English-speaking candidates.

LOYALIST VIET NAMS CLAIM BIG VICTORY

SAIGON, Indo-China (UP)—Premier Ngo Dinh Diem's loyal troops drove the rebel Hoa Hao armies out of free Viet Nam today in the biggest victory of the civil war, the defence ministry announced.

Government troops hacked into the heart of the Seven Mountain area held by the rebels in 48 hours of resolute hand-to-hand fighting and then shattered the resistance with a mighty air and artillery barrage.

Seven City Officers Win Navy Promotions

Patrick Nixon, 37, Becomes Captain; Gar Dixon Made A-Commander in Reserve

Seven Victoria naval officers have won advancement in the navy's latest promotion list.

They are: To captain, Cmdr. G. Patrick Nixon, 37, director of tactics and staff duties at naval headquarters; to commander, Lieut Cmdr. A. Craig Campbell, 37, on Royal Navy staff course; to commander, Lieut Cmdr. H. E. F. Makovski, 47, director of naval standardization at naval headquarters; to commander, Lieut. Cmdr. James Bruce Wadsworth, 52, principal naval overseer for the West Coast.

To surgeon commander, Surgeon Lieut. Cmdr. John Henderson Fleming, 39, RCN hospital, Esquimalt; to commander, Lieut. Cmdr. C. Lawrence Mofford, 38, on the staff of works, officer-in-chief at naval headquarters; to acting commander, reserve, Lieut. Cmdr. Garfield Charles Dixon, 41, HMCS Malahat.

Capt. Nixon entered the RCN as a cadet in 1935 and received early training in the Royal Navy. He has commanded the destroyers Chaudiere and Crescent, was commanding officer of one of the three squadrons in the cadet wing at Royal Military College, Kingston, and was a member of the joint planning staff and national defence headquarters before coming executive officer on the aircraft carrier Magnificent in 1952.

He has been director of tactics and staff duties at headquarters since mid-1954.

Cmdr. Dixon, recently appointed secretary at Government House, joined the navy in 1939 and retired in 1946. He served mostly in the Atlantic. Cmdr. Nixon is senior supply officer of HMCS Malahat reserve division here.

Arthur Lewis Named Conductor Of Orion Choir

Arthur W. Lewis, music teacher at Lansdowne Junior High School, was appointed conductor of the Orion Choir at the 64th annual meeting.

Mr. Lewis came to this city from Rossland, where he taught high school and was prominent in the Rossland Light Opera Company. He replaces Frank Tupman, who retires this year.

Long-standing choir member Dirk Van Maanen was elected president.

Harry Dutton, conductor of the Royal Roads College Glee Club, will be assistant conductor.

Others elected to the executive were C. Ulch, vice-president; K. Cummings, secretary; A. Hill, treasurer; C. Simmons, librarian; L. O'Neil, assistant librarian; C. Simmons, D. Stewart, H. Dutton, S. Gurney, music committee.

Barbara Stanwyck Injured in Fall

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Actress Barbara Stanwyck was hospitalized in nearby Santa Monica today with a painful back injury resulting from a fall down a flight of stairs at her home.

Her physician, Dr. George W. Ainlay, Sr., said preliminary x-rays taken after the accident indicated Miss Stanwyck did not have a spine fracture, as was first feared.

International Regatta Draws 16 City Yachts

Sixteen sailing yachts left Victoria today to carry the colors for Royal Victoria Yacht Club and Royal Canadian Naval Sailing Association, Esquimalt squadron, at the annual four-day Pacific International Yachting Association regatta.

The regatta will be sailed off Port Townsend, under the auspices of the Corinthian Yacht Club of Seattle.

The local fleet sailed this morning from Cadboro Bay escorted by an RCN ship.

Friday there will be a long-distance race from Port Ludlow to Port Townsend. Series and inter-club races will be sailed Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Representing RCNSA are six Sailerette class yachts: Red Start, Frank Piddington; Black Swan, Jock Marshall; Blue Goose, Ewen Fallon; White Swan, Keith Lewis; Green Teal, Sid Bryant and Silver Heron, Roy Smith.

The following will race for RVYC:

Also attending the regatta, but not racing, are Lalonga II, Dick James; Erin, John Alexander; Reality, Jack Smith and Heather, Humphrey Golby.

Star Recovering After Operation

OXNARD, Calif. (AP)—Actress Loretta Young underwent a two-hour operation for abdominal adhesions Wednesday but it won't interrupt her television show. Her husband, television producer Tom Lewis, said Miss Young is resting comfortably in hospital. Her agent said guest stars will fill in until she is well enough to resume "The Loretta Young Show" on television. Miss Young was stricken with peritonitis while vacationing on her Ojai ranch Easter Sunday.

TUC Edict Fails to End Union War in Three Key Ports

LONDON (Reuters)—More than 5,000 striking stevedores in three key British ports voted today to continue their strike, in defiance of a demand by the giant Trades Union Congress that the stoppage be called off.

The strikers, representing nearly a third of the 18,000 longshoremen idle in six ports for 39 days, decided to continue their fight for recognition in negotiation proceedings in meetings at Liverpool, Manchester and Hull.

While the three meetings were taking place, national leaders of the striking union met in London to decide whether to end the strike, described as a "union war," as demanded by the TUC, parent body of Britain's 8,000,000 trade unionists.

The question of ending the bitter prolonged stoppage in London, Liverpool, Birkenhead, Garston, Manchester and Hull was in the hands of the executive of the National Amalgamated Stevedores and Dockers Union.

They considered Wednesday's edict by the general council of the TUC, that there was no justification for a continuation of the strike.

The TUC chiefs further called upon the NASDU to return to its massive rival, the Transport and General Workers Union, about 10,000 "poached" members.

The Fraser—Fish or Power?

UP THE FRASER IN THE LATE summer and early fall go the salmon in teeming millions. So they will go as long as enough come back from salt water and as long as their fighting course up the river to spawning grounds is possible.

This is food—the best food of its kind in the world. And this is a self-replenishing resource as long as man and nature allow it to reproduce its kind.

Down the river, sometimes sliding, sometimes plunging, comes water that represents one of the great hydro potentials of this coast. Harnessed it could produce vast quantities of power.

But if the dams needed to harness it are built, the up-river pilgrimage of salmon to the spawning grounds, may diminish. The runs, indeed, may be eliminated entirely if the wrong type of hydro development takes place. That would mean the destruction of a food source—and food is primary.

Last week-end Liberal Leader Arthur Laing predicted a major power development on the Fraser involving the construction of eight dams. B.C. Electric vice-president Tom Ingledow said his firm was "actively interested" but that "the BCE is not considering any immediate application for power development rights on the river."

The report and comment represent scarcely a preliminary skirmish in the salmon-power war which could occur on the Fraser. Yet discussion of the question in itself should be enough to provoke wide study and full public information on the issues involved.

Some authorities state that the construction of one dam on the Fraser would injure the fish run—creation of several could destroy it. The same people concede the need for power in certain areas, particularly hydro-power in the northern region of the Fraser watershed. But they point out the possibilities of conflict between fisheries and power. And they underscore the argument that the Fraser is the most vital of all rivers to salmon.

No one discounts the importance of hydro development to British Columbia. It is the base for industrial growth of gigantic proportions. But before any course is followed which would injure Fraser fisheries, very thoughful consideration must be given to alternative power sites. And very careful consideration should be given to the type of industry which wants the power. If it is aluminum, which demands huge blocks, other sites than the Fraser are available. What has been done at Kitimat may be repeated in general design in the northern part of the province behind the Alaska Panhandle. If it is some other form of production with a smaller appetite for power, thought will doubtless be given to applying the Columbia potential, either in an all-Canadian or a joint Canadian-American scheme, to some suitable industrial site.

But one point must never be ignored. Interference with the Fraser fisheries means interference with a great and basic industry which not only produces food but gives wages to a vast number of men and sustains large communities. And hydro development on that river, in the opinion of many persons qualified to know, cannot be undertaken without risk to the salmon runs.

This may be common knowledge. It bears repeating because any measure to harness the Fraser will be preceded by a great deal of spadework and the cultivation of an atmosphere favorable to hydro projects. That atmosphere should not be of a nature to obscure the importance of a basic fishing industry.

The Mayor Flouts the Rules

ALD. W. F. PINFOLD, CHAIRman of the civic finance committee, has been placed in an untenable position by the bizarre handling of the Arts Centre grant by the Mayor at last wek's meeting.

It will be recalled that the legality of the $3,100 grant—always a sticking-point with the Mayor—was approved by the city solicitor at the same meeting, thus clearing the way for positive action.

A vote was then taken and the grant approved by a majority of council.

The Mayor then said that he was "considering vetoing it on the grounds of exceptional bad judgment by the chairman of the finance committee."

Regardless of the fact that this dictatorial ruling was clearly out of order, the Mayor succeeded in bamboozling his council into referring the matter back to the finance committee.

When Ald. Mooney asked "Why?" the Mayor rode rough-shod over him, and proceeded to the next item of business.

Thus Ald. Pinfold, after months of careful study and work on the matter, stands indicted by the Mayor for "exceptional bad judgment."

Ald. Pinfold's course is quite clear. He should insist, since the grant has been declared legal, and approved by the elected representatives of the people, that it go forward to the Arts Centre.

If he is rebuffed in this procedure, he should resign. The Mayor's high-handed flouting of the rules of order and proper legal procedure make him quite unsuited for the office he holds.

A Swing in the Popular Vote

SOCIAL CREDIT HAS AGAIN been returned to power in Alberta, but with a swing in the popular vote which is significant both in the provincial and federal fields.

Where the government at the time of its previous test won support from 56 per cent of the electors, it now apparently depends on only 49 per cent. The gains have been made largely by the Liberals, who increased their poll to 29 per cent from the preceding 22.

The trend reflects a continuation of that shown in the recent federal by-election in the province in which Social Credit retained one of its "safe" seats, but with its margin over the Liberal standard bearer drastically reduced.

Obviously a government which can claim the support of nearly half the electorate is well in the saddle. But the change must cause some concern to Mr. Manning, who, it should be noted, felt it necessary on election eve to dissociate the party from two men charged with questionable dealings involving provincial finances. What the re-election of the two yesterday means must be a matter of speculation.

At all events, while the Social Credit administration has been complimenting itself on good government, it appears that all is not well in the self-proclaimed Eden of the party. Serious blemishes seem to have occurred in the righteousness of its complexion and a growing number of voters have expressed their dissatisfaction.

This disaffection on the part of an increasing number of Alberta's people raises certain doubts over the solid front Social Credit claims to present in the West. And while Mr. Manning, in pre-election oratory, dangled once more the promise of the $25 dividend before the public, "as soon as we get to Ottawa," the party's federal aspirations must seem somewhat dimmer today than they did after 1952.

Goal in Sight

THE LOCAL DRIVE TO PROvide a building fund for the Solarium fell somewhat short of its objective. But despite the discrepancy between cash on hand and what was asked, the sum collected in the one-hour door-to-door campaign Tuesday night is sufficient to ensure that the building project can get under way.

Victoria's general contribution is, of course, a small part of the nearly $1 million required for the Gordon Head structure, but an outright failure in the canvass would have been a serious blow to the Solarium plans. Reports from other communities and other sources of contributions indicate that the fund is now a practical certainty. The new hospital will be built.

The committee members who planned the local drive, and the many volunteer workers who turned out to do the job are to be congratulated, and on two counts. In the first place they have made a definite contribution to the new Solarium building, a worthwhile project which requires no further argument at this point. In the second place they have shown themselves to be conscientious citizens, recognizing a responsibility and a privilege to work for the betterment of their community and the relief of suffering among little children. They have given play to the good forces within them and they are the better for it.

Those who donated to the cause are also to be congratulated. In the same way they have shown themselves to be active members of their community, able to spare something from their own needs to aid others not so fortunate.

It may well be, as the committee suggests, that many who would be happy to contribute were not available during Tuesday night's canvass. The opportunity still exists for them to take part. Their generosity will be well rewarded.

LOOSE ENDS — By BRUCE HUTCHISON

The Big Boom

LETHBRIDGE: An ignorant Victorian drives into Lethbridge expecting to find the dusty little town he knew twenty years ago. Instead, he finds a city of thirty thousand, with a population of a hundred thousand around it, splendid streets and boulevards, elaborate homes and, in The Herald, one of Canada's best newspapers.

Hutchison

This dispatch is written from the El Rancho Motel, which I mention as an example of southern Alberta's incredible gusto. A former rodeo rider, S. M. Fengstad—a fellow at least six feet six without his ten gallon hat, and the very image of the West—started a resort for tourists a few years ago and has ended with something like a palace surrounded by sixty-five separate units luxurious enough for Hollywood.

This in the centre of the flat, windswept prairies. And Mr. Fengstad has just told me—before starting off for an evening's drive half way across Montana in his Cadillac—that he dreams of tearing the whole thing down one of these days and building it nearer to his heart's desire.

THAT is Alberta—rich, fabulous, irrepressible and, according to one of its most distinguished citizens, quite crazy. If the expansion of this province has been almost mad in pace and sweep, there is method in it. No people, I suppose, have managed their affairs better than those living on the parched plains south of Calgary.

In the beginning there was nothing here but a few Indians, some American whisky runners and the Mounties. Then came cattle and the great days of which the Alberta myth is made. But the land, without water, could grow only wheat, when the season was friendly, or bunch grass for animals.

The first genius of Alberta imagined water poured on this earth and predicted abundant harvests. His dream has come true in some four hundred thousand irrigated acres of beets for sugar, corn, beans and other vegetables canned hereabouts by the carload.

THUS after driving a hundred miles across empty plains, with no life but a few beef cows and some jack rabbits, you suddenly enter a huge garden, where at this season boys and girls are hoeing vast acreages of young vegetables.

Water applied to this soil produces quick, rampant and lush growth. Where perhaps thirty acres of prairie are needed to support a single cow, an acre under irrigation will feed dozens of humans. As a result, population has increased so fast that Lethbridge has doubled its size in some ten years and is still growing in all directions.

All this, however, is only one tiny corner of Alberta and agriculture is only one part of its resources. It may well turn out, indeed, that Alberta is the richest area in Canada if not in America—farms, cattle ranches, oil and more coal than man has been able to measure.

NO wonder it is booming and no wonder that a government of any label based on such prosperity is re-elected. At this writing the province is in the mild throes of an election, the Liberals are fighting desperately to enlarge their beach-head in the legislature and, for the first time, they tell me, the original glory is rubbing off Social Credit. No one doubts, apparently, that the Manning government will be re-elected on June 29 but if its support falls it may fall also four years hence.

But I didn't drive most of the way across Canada to talk politics which, to tell the truth, seem rather trifling beside the surging, quenchless and inspiring substance of the nation itself.

AT The Herald a few minutes ago a reporter asked me what I thought of Social Credit and its prospects. Having labored through fifty miles of dust where they are building the new Trans-Canada Highway, being staggered at the spectacle of the green Alberta landscape and knowing nothing of the subject, I declined to express any views on local politics.

Then I was asked whether I had seen any signs of Social Credit in any province east of the Alberta line. The answer to that was easy—no signs at all. When the Social Credit prophets of Victoria announce a march on Ottawa, talk of capturing Saskatchewan and Manitoba and boast that they are even penetrating New Brunswick (of all places) one is forced to conclude that they haven't been around much in the back concessions.

So far the blessings of the great crusade have been hoarded jealously in Alberta and British Columbia. They seem unlikely to share them.

THESE are passing incidents in the surging history of the West. It has found oil and just about everything else needed by an industrial society. Nothing but world suicide is going to stop it now.

TROJAN 'PEACE' HORSE

Outlawing atomic weapons will not resolve world differences. To think so, is wrong.

The scrapping of atomic weapons by the free world could have only one effect. Manpower would revert to its traditional role as the decisive military factor. Democracy would cease to exist as a force. The Kremlin, with cheap cannon fodder in China and Europe, would be master. This is the true aim behind the communist "World Peace" movement.

The Kremlin is trying to sell a Trojan Horse. That democracy should disarm itself, is beyond their wildest dreams. The reds for their part, do not for a moment intend to scrap atomic weapons. Lenin's edict on disarmament is quite clear. Lenin said, "The Socialist cannot, without ceasing to be socialist, be opposed to all war."

In the first place Lenin continues, Socialists have never been, nor can they ever be, opposed to revolutionary wars. The main defect in the demand for disarmament, is its evasion of all the concrete questions of revolution. Or, he asks, "Do the advocates of disarmament stand for a perfectly new species of revolution?" (The War Program of the Proletarian Revolution, V. I. Lenin.)

Lenin's words in the communist bible are quite clear. We should measure all Soviet "disarmament" proposals by their yardstick.

Two choices lie before us. The easy road is to accept communist promises as valid and sincere. Remember President Benes, the beloved father of democracy in Czechoslovakia? Mr. Benes was convinced that bitter compromise with the reds would save his country. He even wrote a glowing article for a western magazine entitled "Why Democracy Shall Not Fail."

Six months later, Benes committed suicide when his government was destroyed by Soviet subversion and intrigue. Mr. Benes ignored the fate of those who had accepted red "peace and friendship" before him.

The other road is rougher. It is no garden path. To follow it we must be determined and alert. Those who follow this road, understand the reds for what they really are. Wise people are waiting for the Soviets to grant the Four Freedoms and the provisions of the United Nations Charter to their own people, before trusting them. The Soviet government is not an elected one. Bulganin does not speak for the Russian people. Neither is he responsible to them when breaking an agreement.

Which side of the mouth does the red dog bark from? The side that says, "we want peaceful co-existence with the free world"; Or the side that roars to party conventions, "we shall not rest until the last dog is hung."?

The communist "World Peace" movement is a Trojan Horse. Examine the teeth of this gift horse. Put Canada first.

LIVING OUR FAITH

The corner stone of the Christian Faith is our Lord Jesus Christ—God in man—His birth, life, crucifixion and resurrection.

I am an Anglican. How the enemies of Christianity exult when Christians attack their fellow Christians because they differ on minor doctrines. We should leave that to God.

The acid test of our faith is how we live it daily in all our relations in life with our families and fellow citizens and the world. We can only do that faithfully by asking God's help.

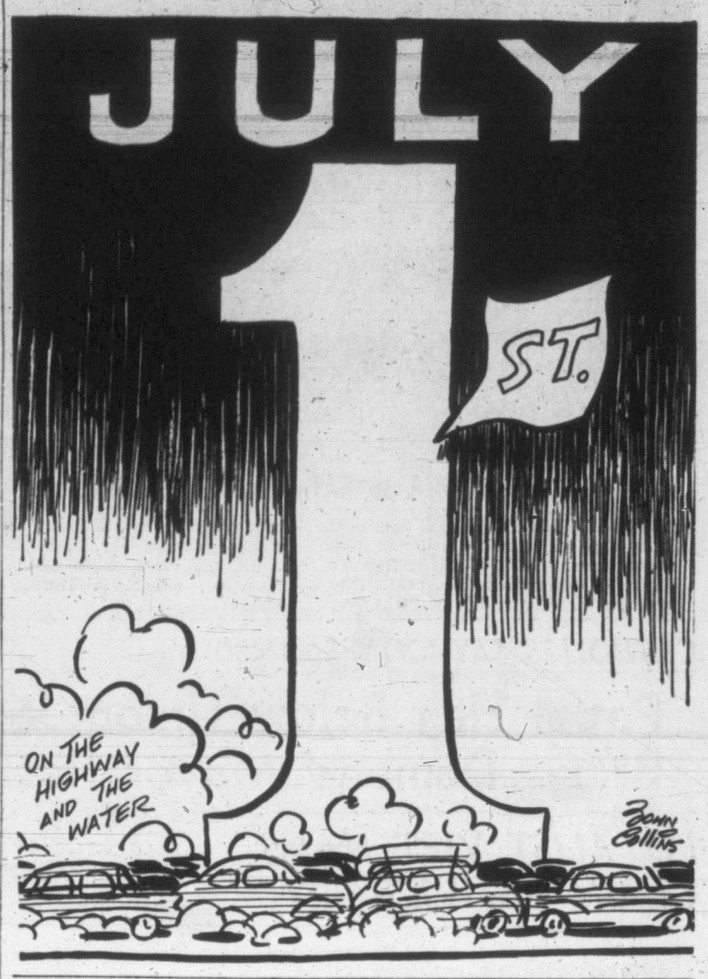
Make It a Safety First



McCarthy's Daydream Ended

BY WALTER LIPPMANN
From Washington

For the first time since last autumn when it voted to condemn McCarthy's conduct, the Senate was confronted last week with an attempt to revive McCarthyism. In the attempt the Senator used all the elements of his old formula. But this time it was evident to all but a handful of senators that the operation was a hoax, effective only if they fell for it. The role for which the senator cast himself was that of the sole remaining but the dauntless champion of the captive and satellite nations.

Lippmann

In his melodramatic day dream they had been betrayed into bondage by the Democrats and they were about to be abandoned by President Eisenhower and the Republicans. For Mr. Dulles was in San Francisco negotiating with Mr. Molotov about the arrangement for the meeting at Geneva which the President is to attend.

NO COMPULSION

It had been agreed that each of the participants at Geneva was free "to take up any subject which is believed to be a contributing cause of world tensions." But no participant was under compulsion—there being no agenda—to take up what some other participant brought up.

President Eisenhower was free, therefore, to take up the subject of the Soviet domination of Eastern Europe. But Marshal Bulganin was free not to take up that subject or any other one.

"Pravda," moreover, had said that the U.S.S.R. would not discuss the satellites—not even if we discuss them.

McCarthy thought he saw an opening. He would ride to the rescue of the satellites. He would prevent the President from taking up any subject, including the subject of the satellites, unless the Soviet Union agreed to take up the satellites also.

BOMBSHELL

So on Monday of last week, as the United Nations meeting was beginning, McCarthy introduced a resolution which was to put the Senate on record as opposed to the President's going to Geneva unless Secretary Dulles could first "secure the agreement of the Soviet Union" to discuss the satellites.

It was plain not only from the text of the resolution but also from the way McCarthy tried to handle it that his purpose was to throw a bombshell into the San Francisco meeting. He wished to show all the world in the most spectacular way possible that the President is not in control of U.S. foreign policy, that the President's master in foreign affairs is the Senate and that the boss of the Senate is Joseph R. McCarthy.

This is the essential formula of McCarthyism: An aggressive demagogue intimidates the Congress by arousing a misled public opinion; he then proceeds to use this demogogic power to usurp the prerogatives of the other branches of the government.

OLD FORMULA

Once again McCarthy applied his old formula. He hoped to intimidate the Senate, indeed to stampede it, into adopting his resolution without even letting it be submitted to the Committee on Foreign Relations.

But McCarthy, it was quite evident, had lost touch with reality since he was condemned last autumn, and he is now living in a dream world of his own dazzling past. He thought that he could stampede the Senate because the Republicans would not dare to vote against any resolution which appeared to reaffirm their own 1952 platform, and because many Democrats concerned with voters who have connections behind the Iron Curtain, would not feel that they could afford to be counted against the resolution.

LEARNED LESSONS

The events showed that he had not realized how well the Senators had learned the lessons which he had taught them by rubbing their noses in the dirt of humiliation.

The Senate was no longer afraid of McCarthy even when he was playing tricks with so sensitive a subject as the captive nations. The Senate was ashamed of having fawned upon him and truckled to him so much too long, and it was more than ready to get back some of its own dignity and self-respect.

Within 48 hours his resolution was defeated unanimously in committee, and then by a vote of 77 to 4 by the Senate.

At the end, on Wednesday afternoon, Sen. McCarthy was not fighting to pass that resolution but was begging the Senators to let him withdraw it before the crushing vote was recorded. But they gave him what he had demanded on Monday, and they did their duty, not without pleasure to almost all of them, which was to administer the punishment that fitted the crime.

No Fatted Calf

The communist rulers of Czechoslovakia have issued a call to the natives of the land now living in Canada, to return to the homeland and that all is forgiven.

Whatever sins there may be for which a commissar can offer remission under the communist dispensation, there is no forgiveness for the sin of stupidity which those are about to commit who will listen to the siren call and return to the yoke of the bolshevik tyrants of present-day Czechoslovakia.

The fleshpots there have been empty for years, ever since the communists took over, and instead of the fatted calf, the returning prodigal will find slave labor camps, regimentation, poverty and, worst of all an utter lack of justice as we know justice in Canada.

It is not difficult to get into communist lands for they want your hard money and as a native you are expected to bring valuable information to further the cause. But when you are within its boundaries, every exit seems to bear Dante's famous inscription over his inferno: "Leave all hope behind ye who enter here." For you are not permitted to leave except on sinister errands and under strict supervision; suspicion follows your every step within the country's borders.

Ere the native returns to that promised land which once upon a time flowed with milk and honey, let him first ascertain the cost of that very expensive honey and very much watered milk. At prevailing wages and prices at the end of 1954 a workman in Czechoslovakia had to labor 5 hours to earn the price of 1 pound of butter, 15 minutes for 1 egg, 100 hours to earn enough to buy a pair of shoes; calculated at the rate of 3.80 koruna being the average wage of a worker per hour.

Your native country needs you say the communists because there is a shortage of labor to meet the next five-year plan quota which will bring the Slavic-Communist economy to the crest of world leadership. Just remember, they'll always be short of manpower for communism like Moloch devours its children.

They'll offer you the lands stolen from the Sudeten Germans and the Hungarians who were driven out like cattle by the millions, because they would not fit into a collective economy. These lands in the midst of hungry Europe are uncultivated, reverting into wilderness. Few native Czechs dared to work these acres because the fear of an avenging Nemesis seems to hover over that country.

The mistakes of capitalism can as a rule be corrected but the mistakes of communism seem to be fateful and final. When the American braintrusters were confronted with economic problems, they killed the hogs and fattened the farmers; Stalin and his Politburo killed the farmers and the hogs disappeared automatically.

The present generation of Czechs must atone for the sins their fathers have committed, the sins of nationalism, panslavism which soured into Russian communism and above all the sin of being instrumental in destroying the Austro-Hungarian empire where there were no barbed-wire frontiers, no visas, equal justice for Czech and German, Jew and Gentile.

A WOMAN'S OUTLOOK

By RUTH ENKE

Birthday Parade

THE hills behind their town are scarred by logging operations, and the booming grounds stretch half across the bay.

It's a logging town, a single, seasonal industry town that knows the winter layoff and the summer shutdown. It's seen hard times and good times, and strikes and violence.

The biggest day of the year in this little town is Dominion Day. And the highlight of the day is the Parade.

Ruth

The entries vary every year, but the time and route and starting place of the parade never change, and the general atmosphere of the day is always much the same.

The starting point is on "The Crescent." By noon the children and the floats are beginning to assemble. Each group knows its allotted place because of the directions painted on the surface of the road.

Look, here's where the fire-engine will be, at the head of the Parade. No, it won't come till the very last minute. It waits until the judging's done. And, because it leads the way, it can rush off quickly in case there should be a fire.

It's the high school band. How those youngsters grow, don't they?

That's the place for the logging queen in the gay new convertible. There's her father taking a picture. Just bursting with pride. They'll have a professional picture as well, of course, and her mother will keep it proudly on the piano, and show it off to visitors for months to come. Cynics may sneer, but it's the kid's big day. She'll remember it all her life.

* * *

Come on, let's look at the children. They always have them close to the band because they march more smartly to the music.

Look at that toddler dressed in maple leaves. She'll never manage to walk to the end of the route. She'll slow the whole thing up.

Those are "Groups of Four." They're the three blind mice, I imagine. Aren't those tails good? Stockings, I think, dyed dark brown and tapered to a mousey point. How shiney and scaley and realistic. The farmer's wife is chasing them. (And watching the judge out of the corner of her eye!) Lord, I hope that knife's a sham. They're the four little Robinson boys. Holy terrors. I wouldn't put anything past them!

Do look at Old King Cole and his fiddlers three. Wow! The littlest one has cracked his fiddle across the second one's head. His mother's trying to break it up. Don't laugh. I know how she is feeling.

Gosh, a horse. It's the one that belongs to the dentist's kids. Two of them are on its back and the little dark one is in the travois. She wanted to ride on the horse, that's why she look so mad. Isn't she furious and isn't she funny?

That darling little girl with the long brown plaits? That's no little girl. That's the tough little Cizek boy from up the hill. That bosom? It's two oranges, my dear. He threatens to take them out and eat them if he gets thirsty. It'll bring the town down if he does. "Wolf in Sheep's Clothing" they have called him.

"Safety First." It's the First Aid gang. Let's give them a hand. They're one of the best outfits on the Island.

Ah! It's the caste of the high school's Viennesy operetta. Those costumes are all home made and aren't they beautiful?

Good. There's the Fish and Game Club's Keep-Your-Forests-Green float. Look at the work in that.

* * *

Oh, the national groups did manage another float this year. It makes one think about our Canadian pattern, doesn't it?

There's the PTA float and the model of the old school and one of the new schools we hope to get.

"Life on 55." That's put on by a group which works for old age pensioners.

No, those are members of the hospital auxiliary. "It's YOUR hospital. Be proud of it."

Listen. It's the band. They're starting. They're off.

* * *

It isn't grand, I know, but it's honest and real and its grown out of the town itself. It's close to what I always think is the true feeling of Canada itself.

How I wish that it could be made into an amusing, human movie short. The idea has endless possibilities, and, with the right director, it could be a lovely bit of work.

Digging for Treasure Ship

LONDON—At random . . .

RUMOR that Britain's public hangman—Albert Pierpoint—is about to retire has prompted more than 250 men to apply for the job. Pay: $42 a time, plus travel expenses to and from hangings.

LETTER in the Daily Mirror: "They're a very chivalrous lot of chaps at our factory. The other day when the foreman fainted, dozens of them rushed forward to tighten his collar."

CANADIAN JACK BILLINGS is building a reputation for himself over here as a dancer. Frequent appearance on TV shows preceded being featured in a performance in the Festival Hall of Morton Gould's Concerto for Tap Dancer and Orchestra.

THEY'RE TRYING AGAIN to find that Spanish treasure ship—the Duque de Florencia—that has been at the bottom of Tobermory Bay since the 1550s. The Duke of Argyll has enlisted the help of one of Britain's top salvage experts, Captain J. B. Pollard (he helped discover the wrecked Comet off Elba), and already with echo sounders they've located a 100-foot mound on the bottom of the bay which they feel might mean the ship is there. First, however, there's the slight matter of removing 18,000 tons of silt to get at it.

GENE KELLY has spent two years and two million dollars on the making of his new film in Britain, The Invitation To The Dance. This is one year and one million more than expected. To doubters who wondered whether it would ever see the light of day (or rather the darkness of a cinema) Kelly said it is still in the oven and will be served up when properly cooked.

DORIS DAY, who was through here recently on her way to the Mediterranean to work on Hitchcock's remake of his early film The Man Who Knew Too Much, is really an unsophisticated lass, apparently. Says husband Marty Melcher: "Doris has never been out of the States before and she's a bit shocked at what she sees here." The bikinis of the continental misses, it seems, are a bit more advanced than what Doris is used to in the good old U.S.A.

WHENEVER the spectre of the Other Woman looms on a wife's horizon she invariably envisages some racy blonde who has her husband in her toils. But according to psychiatrist Mayo Wingate, if a wife would like to know what the mysterious Other Woman looks like—just look in a mirror.

He says: "A man finds his greatest attraction in a woman who is opposite to him in disposition and temperament. Women who are alike in disposition show it in their features. A man will unconsciously associate the looks with the temperament and so he will pursue the same physical as well as mental characteristics. If the marriage breaks up because she is a scold and a shrew he will marry the same type next time. He never learns. The attraction of the opposites is too strong."

SYNOPSIS—

A mass of cool, moist air from the north Pacific lay over the entire province this morning. Skies were cloudy and there were scattered showers in most regions.

A ridge of high pressure was developing in the Gulf of Alaska and there were indications this would bring improving weather to the north coast this afternoon.

Cloudiness was expected to decrease gradually along the south coast Friday.

In the interior, cool, showery weather will persist at least another day. However, by Friday afternoon cloudiness will decrease somewhat and temperatures will climb to nearly 70 degrees in the southern valleys.

ATOMS FOR PEACE

and the boat will surface in a hurry.

It will mean that something has gone wrong inside the shielding. It may never be lighted, though.

MILITARY JOB

In conclusion, one thing should be noted clearly: An atomic submarine is a military job. There has been no attempt to bring its power plant down to cost levels competitive with ordinary seagoing engines.

Now that the atomic submarine is assured the destroyer would be an ideal next step.

The enormous power (50,000 horsepower) required to obtain speeds of 40 knots places such severe demands on the destroyer that it is virtually all engine room below decks.

Fuel bulks so large that cruising range is small; top-speed operation range is even less. Here, atomic engines will do a wonderful job.

A 150,000-kilowatt atomic boiler will take up no more space than present boilers; shielding will not consume as much space as old-style fuel. The reactor will contain all the fuel needed.

BASIS FOR CARRIER

The work that Admiral Hyman Rickover's people have already done on the submarine is expected to form the basis for atomic carrier engines when the navy is ready for these.

The carrier is now the foremost fighting ship of the fleet. Successful experience with the subs should soon lead to atomic carriers—say within 10 years.

With this great activity in naval atomic power, merchant marine owners are sure to consider uranium engines for their ships as well. But the problem is somewhat different for them; economy, not military mobility, must be the criterion.

It will take a little longer to put the atom into the ocean liner and the freighter.

To the commercial vessel, problems of fuel storage, fueling time and cruising range are less important. The best reasons for switching to atomic engines are reduced fire hazard and the reduction of use of precious petroleum reserves.

NORWAY INTERESTED

Norway is at present the most enthusiastic for merchant marine conversion, with The Netherlands a close second. In 1951 these two maritime nations joined to build an experimental pile at Kjeller, Norway, for the express purpose of developing engines for ships.

Most likely they will be the first to ply the seas with atomic power.

Probably not, however, with their hosts of small tramps, which eke out a nomad existence well enough with coal.

You will see some of the big steamship lines take it up first; no doubt atomic power will come to be a prime advertising point in luxury travel.

(From the book "Atoms For Peace," published by Dodd, Mead and Co. Copyright 1955 by David O. Woodbury.)

Saturday—The Atom in the Air. Will airplanes ever have atomic engines? If so, when? What advantages would military aircraft find in atomic engines? Why is atomic power for commercial planes unlikely in the near future? Will the atom be used to power space ships?

HAY AHOY!

Some farmers in the picturesque, low-lying Suffolk Broads district of England bring in the hay by water. So it was logical for a British boat builder to use lightweight aluminum to produce a 650-pound punt capable of carrying a load of hay more than six times its own weight.

In Canada aluminum is better known among farmers as a non-rusting, heat-reflecting, easily handled material for barns and roofs and silos . . . though of course it has many other farm uses, from milk cans to windmill blades. No hay-boats, though.

Views on Beaver Lake Racetrack To Be Aired at Rally Tonight

Opinions for and against the establishment of a race track at Beaver Lake will be aired at a public rally at 8 o'clock tonight at the Royal Oak Women's Institute Hall.

Sponsored by the Saanich Voters' Association, the meeting will feature a panel of four speakers who will talk on the development of municipal parks, including Thetis and Beaver Lakes. Speakers will be limited to 10 minutes each.

RATEPAYERS INVITED

Members of ratepayers associations, Parent-Teachers organizations, Saanich councillors and residents of the four municipalities of Greater Victoria, have been invited to attend the rally.

P. D. Bragg, president of the Saanich Voters' Association, will preside. Mike Clement will be in charge of the panel of speakers.

An open discussion will be held after the speakers have addressed the meeting. A resolution with regard to the race track issue at Beaver Lake will also be submited to the audience for approval.

The speaker's panel is composed of:

Ald. Donald Smith, who will speak on the establishment of a race track, exhibition and park at Beaver Lake.

George Chatterton, trustee for School Board 63, who will speak for the development of "only" a park at Beaver Lake.

Brahm Wiesman, regional town planner, who will talk on the principles of town planning, especially with regard to Saanich.

Clr. Robert Fleming, chairman of the Saanich parks committee, will address the meeting on the council's park policy.

Old Customs House Now Naval Building

One of Victoria's oldest federal government buildings—the old customs house at 1002 Wharf—today became the new home of Canada's oldest naval division, HMCS Malahat.

The reserve division began moving into its new quarters Wednesday. It has occupied Moresby House in Esquimalt until now, latterly sharing premises with WREN personnel.

Renovations to the old structure, which also has been the home of public works and transport departments in Victoria, have been in progress since January.

ADAMS TO OPEN

It is expected that Rear Admiral K. F. Adams, Hamilton, flag officer of naval divisions in HMCS Star, will perform the official public opening in September when he is in the city on an inspection visit.

The conversion, talked of for two years, was chiefly for administration purposes to provide additional office space for the reserve navy here.

The estimated $60,000 job also provides four messes for ratings, WRENS, chiefs and petty officers, and officers.

There are three floors and a sub-basement, but as yet no drill deck.

Provision for a drill deck has been made for some future date.

Included in the 85-year-old building are facilities for recruiting, additional to the present reserve-active navy recruiting office on Government.

Moresby House now becomes exclusive accommodation for WRENS.

HARRISON CRITICIZED

Health Board Chief Backs Fluoridation

Union Board of Health chairman, Esquimalt councillor G. K. Sammon today attacked the anti-fluoridation stand of Mayor Claude Harrison.

He questioned the worth of "evidence" against fluoridation which is presented by ". . . food faddists, cultists, pseudo-scientists, quacks and cranks . . ."

He disagreed with the mayor's opinion that there should be a hearing of both sides rather than an acceptance of medical advice.

The mayor stalled the issue at council last Thursday and threatened to veto a motion which would have adopted a Union Board of Health recommendation for fluoridation of Victoria drinking water.

Later, he issued a statement saying that even a vote of the people would not determine the matter properly. He said the government should hold an inquiry, hearing both sides, then make a ruling.

Clr. Sammon said today, "the mayor would appear to be in conflict with himself. In one breath he utters the rights and privileges of the citizens and then proceeds to threaten city council with 'his powers of veto' if they don't submit to his way of thinking.

"He further states that we should weigh the evidence before rendering a decision—whose evidence? The evidence of food faddists, cultists, pseudo-scientists, quacks and cranks who have made it their life's hobby being anti-this and anti-that?

"If there are any doctors of medicine or doctors of dentistry who have sound scientific reasons to question fluoridation . . . it is their duty to make their views known through the medium of recognized scientific journals and periodicals where their views can be analyzed in an unbiased manner."

Clr. Sammon quoted present conditions in B.C. where the average three-year-old already requires three fillings, the seven-year-old, nine. Dental care for all the school children in the province would cost $9,000,000 and require 545 dentists, working full time. There are only 573 dentists in the province, he added.

Where fluoridation has been in effect for five years, there was a 51 per cent reduction in decay noted, he said, according to department of health and welfare studies.

"Since 1945, 771 U.S. communities with 14,000,000 people have adopted fluoridation."

(OSCAR CLASS) "MARTY" (Odeon — opens Friday) — The wizards of Hollywood are slowly awakening to something that TV producers found out some time ago — that the public doesn't have to find its heroes among barons and earls, the white tie or be-gowned sophisticates of cafe society or the guys and dolls of the underworld. They're quite ready to settle for the everyday men and women who people the everyday, humdrum world they themselves live in.

It is for this reason that original TV plays based on the lives of "little men" have met with such popularity that Hollywood studios have discovered it worth their while to buy them up for the big screens just as quickly as they can.

One of these was "Marty."

Marty Pilletti is a butcher. He works for Mr. Otari in the Bronx and hopes to buy Mr. Otari's butcher shop when Mr. Otari retires. Other than business Marty has his own personal problems. Everyone, including his Italian-born mama (Esther Miniciotti), is anxious to marry Marty off. After all, he's 34 and that's considered ancient in the Italian section of the Bronx.

★ ★ ★

BUT MARTY DOESN'T FOOL himself. Not even a "dog" would want to marry unbeautiful, stocky, fat butcher Marty Pilletti. He knows, he has tried. But the girls find one outing with him is more than enough. "Girls make me feel like I'm a bug," he rages at his mother.

Nonetheless, he obeys her injunction to go to the Stardust Ballroom "which is loaded with tomatoes," but romance evades him again until he discovers that a "dog" has been jilted by her escort and is out on the stoop crying. Compassion grips butcher Marty and he offers to walk the "dog" home.

During their walk and a quiet cup of coffee Marty suddenly realizes that possibly for the first time in his adult life he is enjoying himself with a girl. He takes a second look at her. "Why," he gasps, "you're not such a dog as you think you are." The fast-blossoming love affair from that moment on leaves him jubilant but half-frightened. Surely this wondrous thing can't be happening to fat little butcher boy Marty Pilletti?

And in the revelation there is much beauty.

THEATRE-GOERS WHO REMEMBER Marty as Ernest Borgnine, the vicious, knife-wielding "Fatso" of "From Here to Eternity," may have difficulty associating him with the honest, frightened butcher. But long before the show is ended they will see in Borgnine a possible candidate for Academy Award nomination honors. They will also be cheered by the splendid performance of Betsy Blair as Marty's girl.

Plaudits are in order as well for Paddy Chayefsky, himself a graduate of life in the Bronx, who wrote the TV "Marty" and then the big screen adaptation. Picking up the small, important by-plays of teeming, big-city life is an art at which Chayefsky is a master. Marty to best pal Angie (Joe Mantell): "Whatcha wanna do t'night, Angie?"

"Oh, I dunno, Marty. Whadda you wanta do?"

"Nothin' much, I guess. Whadda you wanta do?"

Then there is the exciting black and white photography, the odds and ends of life such as shots of the crowded Saturday night dance hall, the coffee bar, the hangout of the boys, the butcher shop, New York at night, so big, so lonely.

In its own small way, "Marty" must be considered along with "East of Eden" as being among the best four or five plays of the year to date.

Stratford Festival Opens to Full House

By JAMES R. NELSON
BUP Staff Correspondent

STRATFORD, Ont. (BUP)—The third year of the Stratford Festival was off to a strong start today and settled down to a month-long run of three productions attractive to all tastes.

Wednesday night's opening of the Merchant of Venice was easily the most attractive to the average theatre-goer, contrasting with the heavier Julius Caesar and the effective but shorter Oedipus Rex, ancient Greek tragedy by Sophocles, who crept into the otherwise Shakespearean festival last season.

The "Merchant" was light and colorful. Although the production Wednesday night stumbled once or twice from opening-night tension, it flowed smoothly from scene to scene and British director Tyrone Guthrie used the remarkable scope of theatre-in-the-round to the full.

Plaudits from the sell-out audience went especially to Tanya Moiseiwitsch, designer of not only the vivid costumes for all three plays, but of the stage and tent-theatre itself. Under Guthrie's direction, she designed a stage adapted from the old Globe Theatre of London in Shakespeare's time, with an apron extending far into the audience, a balcony, and side entrances.

Frederick Valk, Czech veteran of the European stage, played Shylock, and it was in the final portion of the great trial scene that he rose to the height of his art. Earlier he seemed ill at ease with the small stage and the audience so close and surrounding him so intimately.

Smith Wins Title

Champ Jimmy Carter Handed Worst Beating

BOSTON (UP)—Wallace (Bud) Smith said today he fought 15 fights to win the world's lightweight championship.

"I fought every round like it was a different fight," the 26-year-old Cincinnati, Ohio, battler said today after winning a split decision Wednesday night from Jimmy Carter.

Smith gave the former champion perhaps his worst beating in lifting the crown from Carter, who had lost it previously to two other fighters. The fight was nationally televised from hot and muggy Boston Garden.

Though it was Carter's 11th championship bout, it was Smith's first crack at the title.

"I knew I was going to win it and I wouldn't let him (Carter) change my plans," Smith said.

"I planned to fight every round like it was a different fight and I wouldn't let him do anything to stop me," he said.

Smith, a 3-1 underdog and a quarter of a pound lighter than Carter at 134, hammered Carter with vicious left hooks. The slim crowd of 1,983 hardly knew Smith had a right until he started using combination punches beyond the mid point of the match.

However, Smith didn't need his right. He sliced open cuts over both of Carter's eyes in the fourth round and had his opponent's face and shorts covered with blood at the final bell. Smith could hardly see from his left eye because of blood from a cut suffered in the 11th. Smith's cut bothered him little as he matched Carter blow-for-blow and then some over the last third of the fight.

Carter required 15 stitches — nine over his right eye and six over his left—after appearing in his 11th title fight.

Referee Mel Manning scored it 147 to 140 for Smith and judge Joe Heirty had the Cincinnati battler ahead 145 to 144. Judge John Glynn called it even 144-144.

"I dunno how it feels yet," said Smith who was still groggy for a half-hour after the fight. "But I feel like the whole USA," he said later.

Sad Farewell to Irish Star

Irish eyes weren't smiling Wednesday night, after Victoria Shamrocks dropped a 6-5 Intercity Lacrosse League decision to Mount Pleasant Indians at Memorial Arena. But the Shamrock players tried to muster up a few smiles as they unhappily said farewell to scoring star Jack Bionda, who leaves for his home in the east Thursday morning. (Times photo by Bill Halkett).

Jake's 'Boys' Ruin Jack's Swan Song

Tribe Hands Irish Third Straight Loss

Indians 6, Shamrocks 5

By DENNY BOYD

Mount Pleasant Indians, the unimaginative dullards, don't know the meaning of the word sentiment and sad goodbyes fail to upset their unsensitive souls.

The setting was perfect Wednesday night for a fiction writer to pen a plot that had Jack Bionda leading the Victoria Shamrocks to a victory over Mount Pleasant Indians, seeing as how it was the final game Jack was to play before leaving for his home in the east. It would have been a swell send-off for the popular Bionda and heaven knows, the Shamrocks could have used the win, being only three points ahead of the field.

Bionda did his part. He scored two goals and one assist and played a strong defensive game. But the script-fouling Indians, headed by coach Jake Proctor, loused up the yarn by bouncing the Irish, 6-5.

It was the third straight loss suffered by the Shamrocks, the first time that has happened in many, many moons, and the second time in three games the usually potent Rocks have been held to the niggardly sum of five goals.

Then there was the refereeing. It wasn't so much that it was bad. It was more along the line of hopelessly bad but it was that way for both teams. Eric Dickinson and Ernie Smith do not make a particularly enchanting pair for handling games.

The officials got soundly told off by Shamrock trainer Dusty Mair and the foghorn voiced Mair got tossed out of the Shamrock box for his innuendoes. Mair made loud reference to Dickinson's girth, and while Dickinson was warning Mair, Smith entered the conversation. Mair affixed Smith with his steely eyes and said, "Listen, Buster, when I'm talking to the organ grinder, I don't want his monkey butting in." It was then that Mair was asked to watch the rest of the game from other precincts

TRIBE SHORT HANDED

Indians were without four of their regulars — Cy Anderson, Skip McKay, Gordy Nickle and Gordy Gimple. They had enough juniors in their line-up so that one razor blade would have lasted the team a week.

But the Indians had it—defensively, in the second half, as they held the Shamrocks to one goal through the medium of frantic checking and voracious hounding of loose balls, rebounds and faceoffs.

Coach Proctor had a large hand in the game, scoring two goals and an assist to offset Bionda's fine and final bid.

BIONDA VS. PROCTOR

Bionda was much in evidence as the Rocks forged a 4-3 lead at the half but Indians struck back for three unanswered goals in the third quarter to nurse a 6-4 lead entering the last quarter.

Shamrock goalie Geordy Johnston pulled off some colossal saves to blank Indians in the last quarter but Shamrocks could muster only one goal, that a long low shot from the side by Bionda.

Proctor, belted from pillar to post, kept the Indians from wilting in the last quarter and the game ended with Bionda, watching the clock while weaving around at centre, firing a bounce shot that Stan Joseph turned aside in the last five seconds.

EIGHT RACES SCHEDULED

Harness Racing Starts Friday

Top sports attraction of the Dominion Day holiday week-end will be the return of harness racing to Sandown Park, Sidney, Friday afternoon at 2.30.

Eight races will be run off on the opening day of the six-day meet, with another eight races slated for Saturday afternoon. The meet will continue at Sandown all next week.

Top drivers and horses from California and the Pacific Northwest have entered in the meet, the first such racing in the Victoria area in several years.

The top horse in the Pacific Northwest this year, Captain King, will be running in the eighth race. Captain King is undefeated in five starts this season. He is expected to receive his stiffest opposition from Hank W., who recently won a $15,000 feature race at Santa Anita.

For the punters, pari-mutuel betting has been installed at the track, with 50 wickets available under the grandstand for placing and collecting bets. An electric tote-board has been completed for operation in the infield.

The eight races will be run at five-eighths and one-mile distances around the newly re-surfaced and banked track. A new, 1,500-seat covered grandstand has been completed for the opening day.

The track is situated on the Victoria-Sidney Highway just past the Pat Bay Airport. Bus service is available.

A brief opening ceremony will precede the first day's card.

Indians, White Sox Skidding

By The Associated Press

The way things are going, Chicago White Sox and Cleveland Indians appear to be smack between the devil and the deep blue sea in the American League race.

New York Yankees are up there in front, getting more ornery every day. And to the immediate rear are Detroit Tigers and Boston Red Sox, just itching to wash Chicago and the Tribe out of their second- and third-place berths.

White Sox appeared to be on their way out as they dropped their fourth straight to Detroit 8-2 Wednesday. And Cleveland suffered another jolt in a 12-4 pasting by Kansas City Athletics.

New York, meanwhile, clobbered Baltimore Orioles twice, 9-2 and 7-3, while Boston continued its steady victory diet with a 6-3 success over the Senators at Washington.

Yanks, who have won 10 of their last 11, now are five games up on the White Sox and seven ahead of the Tribe. Detroit is only three behind Indians and Red Sox, who have won 19 of 23, are just half-a-game further back.

In the National, crippled Brooklyn Dodgers were shattered by a revived Willie Mays as New York Giants reclaimed fourth place with a 6-1 victory. Mays, shaking his slump, drove in all six runs against the first-place Dodgers, who have lost power guy Roy Campanella with a knee injury.

Milwaukee Braves drew to within half a game of second-place Chicago by pelting Cubs 4-1. Philadelphia Phillies beat Pittsburgh Pirates 6-3 and St. Louis Cardinals rapped Cincinnati Redlegs 9-5 as Stan Musial reached the 2,500-hit mark.

Tigers won their fifth game in six starts when five straight hits, including Al Kaline's three-run homer, gave them a five-run first inning that chased Harry Byrd and got Billy Hoeft started on his eighth victory.

Yanks rolled on as Bob Turley became the fourth American League pitcher to win 10 this season in the opener.

Tom Morgan won the nightcap to give Yankees one-two bullpen punch an 11-0 record. Morgan is 5-0, Jim Konstanty 6-0.

Rosburg Seven Under To Lead B.C. Open Golf

BOB ROSBURG
. . . B.C. golf leader

VANCOUVER, B.C. (BUP)—Bob Rosburg, an easy-going shotsmith from San Francisco, carried a one-stroke lead into the second round of the $15,000 British Columbia open today after shooting a scorching seven-under-par 65 at Vancouver's Shaughnessy Heights course.

Right behind him was another California whiz, Jimmy Clark of Laguna Beach, and only two strokes away lurked Texas Tommy Bolt from Houston, Dow Finsterwald of Athens, O., and Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill.

The classiest field of "Gold Trail" pros ever to play in Vancouver wrecked par over the lush, tree-lined fairways during Wednesday's opening round and even lower scores were expected today if the weather improved.

It was the second time in as many years that the 29-year-old Rosburg held a first-round lead in a big-time tourney in Vancouver. In last year's Canadian Open, the ex-Stanford University star shot into an early lead with a record-breaking 63 at Point Grey.

The pre-tourney favorite, husky Mike Souchak of Durham, N.C., covered up for bad putting with powerful, long drives to stay within three strokes of Rosburg. Julius Boros, the 1952 U.S. Open champion from Mid Pines, N.C., and colorful Bo Winninger of Oklahoma City also had 68's.

SNEAD HAS 71

Slammin' Sammy Snead, who was attracted to the tournament by the good fishing on Vancouver Island, ran into familiar green trouble and stayed well back with a 71.

Top Canadian was young Bob Wylie of Calgary, Alta. He and 10 name players were bunched with 69's. Wylie got hot with a 33 on the back nine to post his best score to date in a big circuit tournament.

Stan Leonard had a 71, Bob Fleming of Victoria, 80, Laurie Carroll, 78.

Rosburg, playing in a three-some with Clark and Boros, got his first birdie on the 500-yard fourth hole, knocking down a curling 15-foot putt.

He birdied the seventh after dropping his approach stiff to the pin and got another at the ninth to go three-under for the par-37 first nine.

Three consecutive birdies on the 11th, 12th, 13th, and another on the 15th put him seven-under.

Louise Brough In Net Final

WIMBLEDON, England (UP)—Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., reached the women's singles final at the Wimbledon tennis championships for the seventh time today by defeating Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., 6-3, 8-6.

On Wednesday top-seeded Tony Trabert of Cincinnati and unseeded Kurt Nielsen of Denmark won decisive victories Tuesday to gain the final round of the Wimbledon all-England championships.

Trabert whipped a fellow-American, seventh-seeded Budge Patty of Los Angeles, 8-6, 6-2, 6-2. Nielsen upset highly-favored, second-seeded Ken Rosewall of Australia, 11-9, 6-2, 2-6, 6-4 to repeat his 1953 performance when he lost to Vic Seixas of the United States in the final.

In the men's doubles, Australia's experimental team of Ken Rosewall and Neale Fraser had some uneasy moments but finally prevailed over Herbie Flam, Los Angeles, and Adrian Quist, Australia, in a men's doubles quarter-final 6-4, 4-6, 8-6, 6-2.

City Net Tournament Opens July 9

Annual Victoria City open tennis championships will be held July 9-16 at the Victoria Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club courts.

The tournament will consist of five events, men's singles and doubles, women's singles and doubles, and mixed doubles. Flight competition will be held in the men's and women's singles if a sufficient number of entries are received.

Entries close on Friday, July 8, at 6 p.m., and may be made on the club notice board or by notifying secretary J. Hobson by mail or phone at 2-1923.

The tournament is open to all players residing within 20 miles of Victoria's city centre.

Senator Jim Favored

WINNIPEG (CP) — An eastern-owned, eastern-bred horse probably will be made favorite in the 26th running of the $10,000-added Canadian Derby over 1¼ miles Friday at Winnipeg's Polo Park.

Senator Jim, a grey colt raised by Charles Robson of Oshawa, Ont., ranks as the horse to beat in view of his excellent showings this year and the fact that his arch-rival Ace Marine will not compete in the west's richest stake race.

Arrows Edge Students, Share Softball Lead

ARROWS 9, STUDENTS 8

Chinese Students' pitching corps went to pieces Wednesday night at Central Park. With his team holding a 8-6 lead going into the last of the ninth, Jimmy John walked in the winning run as Arrow Furniture came back with three runs to win 9-8 and go into a tie for first place in the Senior A Men's Softball League.

The Students had to battle all night. They scored five times in the last two innings after being down 6-3, but a shaky infield, plus a couple of scratch hits by Arrows in the last of the ninth set up the winning runs.

John had started on the mound for Students, but he went out in the last of the fourth after giving up three hits and a walk. Ellis Achtem came in to relieve him but he was wild. After Achtem walked in a run and issuing two more free passes, John came back to the mound from shortstop. John finally retired the side but Arrows had scored four times to take a 5-3 lead.

Arrows won it when Archie Sluggett doubled.

Billy Benn got a life at first when Dave Lowe dropped a throw from third, and Lowe let another ball get away from him on Len Scott's bunt single, Sluggett scoring. George Wright singled over second to drive in the tying run and a bunt single by Whitey Turner loaded the bases. Rod Turner skied out to short right and everybody held up, but Jimmy John finally lost all control and walked Hal Yardley to force in the winning tally.

Tonight Cec Fletchers can regain the lead with a win over United Services. Game time is 6.45.

Friday night Students play Victoria City at 6.30.

Red Oarsmen Win First Henley Test.

HENLEY, England (Reuters)—Russian oarsmen, who walked out of the international Henley regatta here Wednesday because their racing shells were strikebound at a London dock, returned to the Thames regatta course today and won their first race—in a borrowed boat. Friday they will meet Canada.

The Krasnoe Znamia red banner rowing team of eight beat Jesus College, Cambridge, by half a length in an exciting opening heat for the Grand Challenge Cup.

Russia scored its second victory of the day in the silver goblets when the Khimik Club crew defeated the Maidenhead Rowing Club of England to reach the semifinals in the time of 8.26.

In Friday's other semifinal race a crew from the University of Pennsylvania meets Britain's main hope, the Thames Rowing Club.

The Americans trimmed London Rowing Club by 1½ lengths today in 7.14.

The Dartmouth Rowing Club scored a five-length victory over the long-established Crowland Rowing Club in another heat of the Thames Challenge Cup. The Americans were clocked in 7.12.

In the double sculls quarter-final, Britain's D. G. Stuart and R. D. Pope defeated fellow countrymen A. L. Sibley and R. E. Bowles by 2¼ lengths. The time was 8.20.

LOS ANGELES BIDS HIGH FOR ROCKY-ARCHIE BOUT

NEW YORK (UP)—Promoter Jim Norris had a brand new $1,250,000 bid from Los Angeles to consider today as he conferred here with the managers of Rocky Marciano and Archie Moore about a heavyweight title fight in September.

Norris, who flew in from Miami, had hoped to close today for the match at Yankee Stadium, probably on Sept. 22, but Wednesday's offer of the biggest guarantee in ring history may prolong the negotiations until next week.

OUTDOOR FRONT

With DENNY BOYD

Slammin' Sam Snead chose Campbell River to rest his nerves before the opening of the B.C. Open Golf Tournament. The drawling southerner, who fishes every moment he is away from golf's Gold Trail, hit it rich and took his limit of cohoes in his one-day jaunt to the popular up-Island retreat this week.

But, generally, fishing is good enough all over the Island that Sam could have stuck a pin in a map of Vancouver Island and hit a good fishing spot.

Close at hand, Saanich Inlet is producing plenty of salmon, as evidenced by the button fish that are making the ladder.

Boyd

Misery Bay has been an extremely productive hot-spot on spoons, herring strip and plugs and McKenzie Bay, Chesterfield Rock and Whittaker's Point have been worthwhile.

Cap Barnes, from The Anchorage, reports that a quick run of coho hit Willis Point and McKenzie Bay, Saturday and Sunday. Harry Ferguson and the party he had out made best use of the run, boating nine of the silver-sided torpedoes, averaging around five pounds each.

The odd spring is being taken off Oak Bay but that area will not be at it's peak for a few weeks. Same thing applies for the Brotchie Ledge grounds.

Nanaimo scribe Jim Hume tells us that a recent derby in the Nanaimo area turned up 350 pounds of salmon.

Up at Campbell River, where Snead had his field day, April Point is the current hot-spot for salt-water anglers, Shelter Point, Willow Point and Oyster Bay, off Cape Mudge have been running close seconds. April Point recently produced a 42-pound spring for G. McCabe.

There is a fine run of coho off Qualicum this week and local clothier Cec Fletcher was one of the first local anglers to cash in on it.

Cec and daughter Carol took limits of fish from five to eight pounds near the mouth of Big Qualicum River Tuesday. They were using Candlefish Spoons and Bucktail flies and had most of their success with the narrow, silver Candlefish.

Fresh-Water Anglers Feast, Too

If you want fresh-water action, the trout and bass situation has been excellent recently.

Cowichan Lake has been turning up some huge trout to trollers recently, one example being the 6½-pounder taken by Roy Carson.

Well-stocked Shawnigan Lake, a mecca for the expert and the week-end angler, is turning out fish to trollers and fly-fishermen, the orange or yellow Flatfish being an excellent bet.

Trout fishing at Lower Campbell Lake has improved considerably recently, as the water level has risen. Upper Campbell, Gooseneck and Buttle Lakes have been good to the fly-tossers.

Spider Lake, north of Qualicum, is one of the hottest bass lakes on the Island and has been acting like it, turning up quite a few five-pounders.

Don Ingham has tied into a couple of lunker-size smallmouths in Glen Lake and Alec Merriman reports big bass snapping at everything tossed into Langford Lake.

Ted Davies, fishing with streamers in the neck between Beaver and Elk Lakes, took a limit of bass recently, the average fish scaling two to three pounds.

Record Entry Expected For B.C. Trap Tourney

Dozens of the steadiest trigger fingers in the Pacific Northwest will be pumping off shots for B.C. trap championship titles over the week-end at the Victoria Gun Club.

What is expected to be a record trap entry for B.C. will take part in the 1955 provincial trap championships, Friday, Saturday and Sunday under the auspices of the local club and under the joint sponsorship of the British Columbia Trap Shooting Association and the Pacific International Trap Shooting Association.

Defending champions who will be back toeing the firing line include all-around champion Russ Young of Vancouver, holder of the P. B. Anderson trophy and the Rod McIndoe trophy for doubles supremacy; Vancouver's 16-yard champion Frank Opsal, defending the Al Hagar trophy; Vancouver outdoors writer Arnie Homewood, defending the Ron Page handicap trophy and ladies' champion Berly Trewhitt of Vancouver, defending the W.C. Gibson trophy.

Five traps will be in operation to handle the expected 20 squads.

Shooting starts at 10 Friday morning with running off of preliminary events.

Titles go on the block starting Saturday when competition will be held for the first half in singles and class A, B, C and D

Also on Saturday the doubles championships will be up for grabs as well as class A, B and C in 50 pairs doubles targets.

Trophies available in the doubles will be the Rod McIndoe perpetual trophy and shields presented by the host Victoria Gun Club in the class championships.

Second half of the provincial and class singles championships will be held Sunday morning with the Al Hagar trophy and more shields available to winners. Handicap shooters will vie for the Ron Page perpetual trophy during Sunday's handicap championships.

The provincial all-round championship, represented by the P. B. Anderson Cup, will go to the shooter posting the highest aggregate score in singles, doubles and handicap competition.

Also to be presented will be the provincial ladies' championship trpphy for the resident woman shooter posting high score in the second half of the provincial and class singles and the B.C. Junior Rufe C. Gibbs Cup.

City Shots Win Titles

Ron and Dave Mecredy of Victoria won the father and son shoot in the 71st annual B.C. Rifle Association matches at Vancouver's Blair Range Wednesday, both firing perfect 25s.

The local Canadian Scottish team, composed of Charlie Smith, B. Roberts and P. W. Roberts, took the Colonist Bren gun team match and an Island navy team won the tyro team match. Navy shooters were D. Griven, H. Wells, J. Ross and D. Parsons.

Leading Victoria scores in the Macdonald tobacco match follow: 96—Frank Drysdale, H. Wells, F. Morse; 95—D. Payne, D. Thornburn, E. Nicholson; 94—Peter Lunn; 93—R. Mecredy, J. Ross, W. Ribout, Dave Mecredy; 92—C. Hobson, V. Finholm, Eileen Learoyd.

LADDER DERBY

Tom Bannister was the only angler to enter a fish for the fifth weekly ladder in the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Angler Association Ladder Derby Wednesday.

Bannister's six-pound, nine-ounce fish gave him the sixth rung in the qualifying ladder.

Ladder standings follow:

1. Dr. H. G. Carson 25.59
2. Bob Warnock 18.00
3. George Hall 17.02
4. J. W. Plimer 12.06
5. Einar Plasten 11.10
6. Tom Bannister 6.09

MILAN, Italy (Reuters).—Milan, Italian soccer league champions, beat Honved, the Hungarian team, 3-2, Wednesday. Honved led 2-1 at half-time.

Druggists Win; Heal Stops Police

McCall-Davey pounded out a 7-1 victory over Menzies Fuel at Beacon Hill Park Wednesday night to increase its first-place Babe Ruth League lead to two games over idle UCT.

Gary Lawrence set the losers down on three hits as his mates came up with a big five-run fourth inning to clinch the victory. Barry Menzies was the loser.

In Pony League action at Carnarvon Park, Jaycees dumped league-leading Victoria Police, 8-3, behind the five-hit pitching of Mike Heal. Heal struck out 14 batters and walked only one for the victory. The winners' hitting attack was led by Butch Rivers with two doubles and a single, while Wayne Schwandt had two singles for Victoria Police.

HOME GARDEN — By JACK BEASTALL

Trial, Error Method Maintains Interest

From time to time there is pointed out to us the apparent contradiction in methods of growing garden plants. One writer will recommend a certain line of treatment, while another practises entirely different cultivating for the same plant.

Jack

This is very confusing for the beginner who is seeking instructions of a definite nature, and the apparent disagreement among experienced gardeners could cause a novice to give up in despair.

The explanation is that gardening is far from being an exact science, and even the most learned gardeners are unable to state which of several cultivating methods is best for any given plant.

The various methods seem to give excellent results when used in different locations, or when applied by different gardeners, and the logical course is to give each a thorough trial and determine which best suits one's own conditions.

There should be no contradiction nor disagreement, for in gardening we are working with living things—living soil, living plants — whose characters are influenced by environment.

In the same manner that the problems of two children in a family must be handled by a different approach, so must the problems related to plant culture be considered individually and in the light of surrounding conditions.

Sun spots are dark regions from 500 to 50,000 miles in diameter, which may last more than a year.

Manville's Ninth Wins $260,000

NEW YORK (AP) — Playboy Tommy Manville agreed Wednesday to settle $260,000 on his estranged ninth wife, Anita Roddy-Eden Manville. It is about par for the 60-year-old asbestos heir. The agreement, yet to be signed, provides the 32-year-old Anita with $140,000 cash plus $1,000 a month for 10 years. Originally, she asked for $1,000,000, but her claim was deflated when Tommy proved he's down to his last $2,000,000.

Traffic Mishaps Drop During May

Traffic accidents on B.C.'s highways dropped sharply during the month of May, according to a report of the Motor Vehicle Branch.

Accidents showed a decrease of 11.76 for the month, compared to the same month in 1954. Injuries dropped 4.4 per cent, fatalities dropped 36.84 per cent, from 19 in May, 1954, to 12.

Only classification showing an increase this May was property damage, which increased 9.87 per cent to $535,332.

For the five-month period ending May 31, however, the picture is not so bright. Accidents are up 7.63 per cent, injuries up 18.32 per cent, fatalities up 3.57 per cent and property damage up 22.52 per cent, to a new high of $2,932,806 for the five months.

Holidaying Motorists Asked To Take Care

National Plea for Caution As Thousands Prepare to Observe Canada's 88th Birthday

(By British United Press)

Canada celebrates her 88th birthday this Dominion Day week-end and the theme was provided by safety experts who pleaded with holiday motorists to take it easy on the highways.

The country's vacation routes will carry a double load, since Monday is Independence Day in the United States and thousands of Americans traditionally cross the border for their outings.

Tomorrow, 88 years after the British North America Act came into force under the prime ministership of Sir John A. Macdonald, will be a holiday for almost all Canadians except the lawmakers in Ottawa. The Commons, still locked in debate over defence spending, will meet as usual.

Police gave notice they would crack down on dangerous drivers. Safety leagues in Quebec and Ontario followed up their week-long safety campaign with appeals to drivers and swimmers to be specially careful during the holiday.

In the summer's biggest holiday week-end last year fatalities throughout the country totalled 69—21 of them children. Campers, picnickers and fishermen have been urged to be especially careful in starting cooking fires in the forests.

The holiday week-end is expected to be the busiest of the year throughout the provinces. Railways are running extra trains and adding extra sections to regular runs. The CNR expects traffic to be heavier than at any time during the last 10 years.

AT REGINA

Jubilee Opening Washed Out

REGINA (CP) — A sudden storm with winds gusting to 70 miles an hour washed out Regina's celebration of Saskatchewan's golden jubilee Wednesday.

The rain and winds sent thousands of persons in Wascana Park and on the grounds of the legislative buildings scurrying for shelter. Many found shelter in the legislative buildings.

Black, ominous clouds, streaked with lightning, darkened the sky at 8 p.m., MDT. Winds that had been blowing strongly all day turned to gale force and a torrential rain drenched the summer-clad men and women gathered to take part in the festivities.

The scheduled celebrations included a stage show; folk and street dancing and a $2,000 fireworks display. The events have been re-scheduled for next Thursday.

CHIVALRY CHASERS HERALD HERALDRY

'Leave Coats-of-Arms in Hall, Please'

Hear ye, Hear ye, Hear ye!

Be it known that Ye Olde College of Arms (Queen Victoria Street, London, E.C. 4) desireth to borrow, on trust, symbols of heraldry coats-of-arms—stamped, embossed, illuminated or otherwise reproduced—as may now grace attics or basements of this city of Queen Victoria.

This means, dear reader, that if you have any of the above-mentioned items cluttering up the records, the college would like to see them.

The 400-year-old college is Britain's link with the days of chivalry and plans to hold an exhibition next year.

In invoking the generosity of donors, officials recognize the difficulty of distinguishing between imitations and the real thing. The college does not want a "flood of second-rate stuff."

This means that if your coat-of-arms is a chisel, rampant on a field of dill pickles, keep it.

Heraldry roughly dates from the 12th century. Grants of arms were rare before the 16th century, but when the practice became widespread, the need for control brought the college into being.

The college receives about 500 inquiries yearly from Canadians, mainly from persons of English descent whose families were granted coats-of-arms.

Old 'All Clear' Signal Now Take Cover Warning

If you hear the "all clear"—take cover.

Civil defence headquarters Wednesday announced a change in the system of warnings for imminent air attack.

A prolonged note of three to five minutes duration is warning that planes are approaching. It used to signal the end of danger.

No new signal has been settled upon for the all clear.

The change was arranged in co-operation between U.S. and Canada, local officials said.

Veteran City Printer, Clyde Macdonald, Dies

W. Clyde Macdonald, employee of the Victoria Daily Times for 49 years, died early today at St. Joseph's Hospital after an illness of about a month.

Born in Victoria on Sept. 28, 1891, he went to work in the paper's composing room sweeping floors, and was taken on as an apprentice a year later.

His name went "on the board" as a full-fledged printer in April, 1912, making him the second on the list in Victoria Press Limited as regards printers' seniority.

FOREMAN

For 10 years prior to the formation of Victoria Press Ltd. in 1951 he was foreman of the Times' composing room.

A well-known athlete in his youth he was a member of the Oak Bay lacrosse team that held the Vancouver Island intermediate championship in 1911, 1912 and 1913, and went on to win a national championship.

He also played soccer and baseball as a young man and was a member and regular golfer at Gorge Vale until his last illness. He was a keen angler and excellent hunter with both rifle and shotgun.

Surviving are his widow, Mary, at the family home, 2847 Dysart; one son, Murray Clyde, Victoria; three brothers, Ernest L. and Jack D., Courtenay, and Leslie G., Kenora, Ont.; a sister, Mrs. John Riach, Seattle.

The funeral will be held Monday at 4 p.m. at Hayward's and interment will be made at Colwood Burial Park.

Edmonton Naval Reservists Sailing Monday for 'Frisco

Seventy-two officers and men of HMCS Nonsuch, naval reserve division in Edmonton, will arrive here Saturday for a training cruise to San Francisco.

They will leave Monday in three ships of the second Canadian reserve training squadron, escorts Brockville and Digby and minesweeper Cordova.

FULL COMPLEMENT

Headed by Capt. G. P. Manning, commanding officer of Nonsuch, the division is the first to provide a full complement for a Pacific cruise. In the company will be Protestant chaplin I. J. Kemlo, and R. C. chaplain George Green, both of Edmonton.

Following Sunday services, W. H. Willson, reserve training commander here, will give reserve officers a tactical briefing.

The three ships will sail Monday at 3 p.m., arriving at San Francisco July 9 and returning to Esquimalt July 15.

NAVAL SHIP MOVEMENTS

Cruiser Ontario leaves Oslo, Norway, July 4, and arrives at Clyde River, July 7.

Coastal escorts Brockville, Digby and Cordova arrive here Friday at 8 a.m. from Ketchikan.

Minesweepers Comox, James Bay and Fortune arrive from San Francisco, Sunday at 8 p.m.

Pay Deduction For Charities Wins Support

United Appeal Aim of Plan

Organizations which conduct the three biggest fund-raising campaigns in Victoria have pledged support to a Chamber of Commerce plan to encourage government workers here to put their charity-giving on a payroll deduction basis.

Representatives of the Community Chest, Red Cross and Salvation Army met Wednesday with Chamber of Commerce president Stuart Keate and other chamber officials to consider the plan.

J. Courtney Haddock revealed the outcome of the meeting at a chamber directors' meeting today.

"If we can't get the provincial government, the Dockyard and other federal departments with offices here to give their employees a chance to donate to charities on a payroll deduction plan, we will be simplifying the work of the various campaign committees and will be taking the first step toward a united appeal," he said.

Employees participating in such a scheme would know what charities would benefit from their contributions, and would elect their own committee to determine how much of the pool each received.

Mr. Haddock said that in industries where the plan was already operating, the average charitable donation worked out to $9.75. He compared this with $1.85 "which is about what you get when you simply pass a hat around."

The chamber intends to interview Premier Bennett in the near future to ask that he set up machinery for provincial employees to contribute under a payroll program.

NEW PRESIDENT of Victoria Chamber of Commerce, elected by directors at a meeting this morning, is G. Fitzpatrick Dunn, top, who during the past year has served as the chamber's vice-president. Mr. Dunn, a chartered accountant, will assume his new office in September, succeeding Stuart Keate. Ald. Austin I. Curtis, bottom, was named as the new vice-president, while Hector Crombie, full-time secretary-manager of the chamber, was re-elected as treasurer.

Adult Education Body Names L. J. Wallace To Council Position

L. J. Wallace, director of the community programs branch of the B.C. department of education, has been elected to the council of the Canadian Association for Adult Education, Dr. J. R. Kidd, executive director of the association, announced today in Toronto.

Mr. Wallace, a former teacher at Victoria High School, will serve a four-year term as council member.

The associatoin co-ordinates efforts by all groups interested in adult education.

RCAF Promotions Awarded City Men

Promotion of two Victoria air force officers has been announced by the RCAF.

Squadron Leader Linton W. Queale, DFC, 39, will take the rank of wing commander and Flight Lieutenant A. S. Pelland, 37, will assume the rank of squadron leader, both effective July 1.

S/L Queale is secretary of the joint planning committee in Ottawa national defence headquarters. He has 18 years' service in the RCAF, including two overseas tours of operating during the Second World War.

F/L Pelland joined the RCAF in 1941 and did anti-submarine and convoy duty in the war. His work now is with the Canadian joint staff at Washington, D.C.

Maj. Saunders Quits 'Army' After 46 Years

Retiring July 4 after 46 years' service—39 an officer in the Salvation Army—is Senior Major Alice Saunders, 215 St. Lawrence, who was presented with a radio by associates at Victoria Citadel Wednesday.

She came to Victoria in 1951 and has decided to remain here in retirement.

Latterly, Sen. Maj. Saunders was secretary to Sen. Maj. C. J Milley, director of public relations at Victoria Citadel.

Archbishop Feted On Anniversary Of Consecration

Archbishop Harold E. Sexton was honored Wednesday night on the 20th anniversary of his consecration at a complimentary dinner in Memorial Hall given by the clergy of the diocese.

The dinner was also attended by Mrs. Sexton, the wives of the clergy and representative laymen of the diocese. Chair man was Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns.

A desk set and illuminated address were presented to the archbishop by the Reverend Canon S. J. Wickens, rural dean. Mrs. Robert A. Wootton presented flowers to Mrs. Sexton.

In his response to a toast proposed by the Rev. Canon Thomas Hughes, Archbishop Sexton reviewed his 20 years of service.

Mr. Wootton spoke for the laymen of the diocese.

City Chinese Get 'Squeeze' From Reds

Boosted Remittances Asked in New Approach

By HUMPHRY DAVY

A campaign to "squeeze the last possible dollar" from Canadian and U.S. Chinese has been launched by Communist China, a Victoria Chinese business man told the Times today.

Chinese-Canadians are receiving letters asking them to increase their remittances in China and to invest in "Joint Public-Private Overseas Chinese Investment Companies," the businessman, who wants to remain anonymous, disclosed.

In return, he said, the Communists promise they will grant special privileges to dependents in China of Chinese residents living in Victoria.

They also pledge they will "protect all remittances."

For those who invest money in companies, he said, the government promises a return of 8 per cent for their investments.

"This is all part of a plan," the Victoria man stated, "to provide the Communist government with much needed foreign exchange.

The Chinese businessman said he had no faith in the promises of the Communists.

"It's a bit of alluring bait to catch the unwary," he said.

He said some Victoria Chinese who sent remittances to relatives in China have found out their dependents can't get their money from the banks.

FEW CENTS

"They only allow the dependents to withdraw a few cents at a time and this is only done after the relatives have gone through a lot of red tape," he said. "They have to tell why they want the money and what they are going to buy with it. Then they are given a few cents to buy a handful of rice."

As far as investing money in China, he said, it is a "risky business."

The government does not tell the investor that the state at any time can transfer, with the stroke of a pen, companies into state-owned operations with complete loss to private investors, he said.

He added that the Communists have stopped extorting remittances from Chinese abroad as ransom for their relatives. This policy was changed because thousands of Chinese living abroad were so angry that they stopped sending money to the dependents.

"It resulted in China losing millions of dollars in remittances money," he said.

TOP APPRENTICE

Victoria Man Leads B.C. Steam Fitters

A Yarrows Ltd. shipyard pipe and steam fitter apprentice has won highest marks in B.C. among indentured tradesmen in his class.

William Wickett, 23, 637 Niagara, leaves about Aug. 10 for Purdue University, where he will write a further examination on an international basis making him eligible for a $1,000 prize.

96 PER CENT

The apprentice steam fitter, now in his fifth and final year of indentureship at Yarrows, topped city exam candidates with a mark of 96 per cent in his local exam.

The company and United Association of Journeymen Plumbers and Pipefitters work closely to provide apprentices with the opportunity to gain as much formal training as possible.

In addition to his regular courses at night school, Mr. Wickett also studied steam engineering which was provided partly through the assistance of Yarrows.

Second prize for the week's examinations at Purdue is $500 and third $250.

"Good Citizen" To Be Named Friday Night

Winner of the annual citizenship award presented by B.C. Native Sons will be announced Friday night in "I Am a Canadian" Day ceremonies on the grounds of the Legislative Buildings.

The announcement will be made following an address on "Citizenship" by Hugh R. Stephen, local businessman.

TAKE OATH

As another highlight of the Dominion Day program, new Canadians Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Czarnecki will take the oath of allegiance from Judge J. B. Clearihue. The couple became Canadian citizens two months ago, and will repeat the ceremony Friday on the steps of the Buildings.

The colorful pageantry starts at 7.30 p.m. and will include flag ceremonies and a program by the HMCS Naden Band.

Should it rain, "I Am a Canadian" Day will be postponed until Wednesday night, when the navy band will hold sunset ceremonies at the Buildings.

ASK The TIMES

Q. — What chemical reaction would there be, if any, if sodium fluoride was added to the ammonia and chlorine already being put into our water supply? J.B.

A. — This column is informed there would be no chemical reaction.

Q. — What is the population of Czechoslovakia, with which country the federal government is carrying out a transaction involving 300,000 pounds of Canada's surplus butter? M.G.L.

A. — The 1950 census of that country gave it a population of 12,340,000. The country's area is computed at 49,381 square miles.

Q. — What day of the week was July 1, 1895? H.G.A.

A. — It was a Monday, which means that the July 4th holiday of the United States was celebrated on Thursday, when no doubt many Victorians joined the citzens in nearby Washington State cities in their celebrations.

Here Are Debt Questions The Times Asked Premier Bennett

Premier Bennett as finance minister this week challenged newspapers which have disputed his claims to big reductions in the provincial debt to send their editorial writers and chartered accountants to question him on the matter.

On Wednesday The Times, accepting this challenge, attempted to submit a list of written questions on the debt policy at the premier's press conference.

These questions were designed merely to get information on how the current debt policy of the government operates, not to criticize it.

The premier declined to read them, said he did not intend to be "led off the issue with trick questions."

Without his comments, the Times has no way of knowing whether its assumptions from the official publications are right or wrong.

It is therefore publishing herewith the questions it hoped the premier would answer:

Schools:

1. Is it a fact that previous governments paid for half the cost of municipal schools and showed its borrowings for this purpose as direct debt? Or else took the money out of revenue account thus forcing it to borrow for other purposes?

2. Is it a fact that the present government still, in effect, pays half cost of new schools by paying half of sinking funds and interest and guaranteeing the bonds?

3. Is it a fact that, under this system, the government does substantially the same as the previous government but, in the bookkeeping, does not have to show any direct borrowings for school construction purposes since they are fully charged to local school boards despite the fact the government pays half the cost of retiring the debt?

4. Is this not, so far as the debt position is concerned, simply a bookkeeping juggle in which the government does not have to show any direct funded debt for schools although it is still providing half the cost?

Toll Bridges:

1. Is it a fact that the Pattullo Bridge—the only toll bridge of any account in the province previous to this time—was paid for by a $4,000,000 direct loan floated by the province?

2. Is it a fact that tolls collected on the Pattullo Bridge ultimately repaid this $4,000,000 loan; that a separate account was kept in public accounts showing how the tolls were applied for maintenance and repayment of this debt; but that the initial cost of the bridge was still carried as part of the public debt until retirement?

3. Is it a fact that borrowings by the toll bridge authority do exactly the same thing as the Pattullo Bridge loan but because the loan is made by the toll bridge authority with a government guarantee the provincial treasury does not have to show these loans as part of the general provincial debt?

4. Is this not another case where a matter of accounting enables the government to avoid charging direct provincial debt for bridge building—quite legally and constitutionally although the principle is exactly the same?

Pacific Great Eastern Railway

1. Is is a fact that ever since the government took over the PGE Railway—until the new policy was established—loans required to maintain and construct new portions of the railroad and to cover deficits in operation were included as part of the direct provincial debt?

2. Is it a fact that the railroad was never able to pay its debt retirement and interest in full, and that the provincial treasury had to accept much of these borrowings as part of the direct provincial debt for this reason?

3. Is it not a fact that new borrowing for PGE construction, although floated by the railroad itself with government guarantee, will have to be paid off by the provincial treasury if the line is unable to make enough money to pay all its debt charges?

4. Is this not another book-keeping switch that enables the government to avoid showing PGE loans as part of the direct provincial debt?

General Policy:

1. If all this type of borrowing was done previously as direct provincial bonds, and that this borrowing is still going on, can the premier honestly say that the overall debt picture of the province has been reduced as much as he claims when he refers only to the direct obligations, which automatically liquidate themselves, when most of the new borrowings are being done on the guaranteed plan?

2. In the light of this situation does the premier think it is a fair comparison to keep telling the public that he is constantly slashing huge sums off the provincial debt when it appears that what really has been done is to transfer many of the main new borrowings from direct provincial bonds to guaranteed debt?

3. Will the premier elaborate on the wisdom of the guaranteed debt policy—with which no one seriously quarrels since it is obviously an efficient manner of financing?

4. Is it a fact that the combined direct debt and guaranteed debt has jumped by some $30,000,000 in the past year?

SHOPPING GUIDE

Locally-grown Vegetables And Fruits Flood Markets

By PENNY SAVER

Friday is Dominion Day, as we all know, and we won't be putting out a paper, so today I'll give you the vegetable and fruit situation for your Saturday marketing. Every time I visit the fruit and vegetable stands, I see a few more signs of summer in the displays . . . even if we don't see it in the weather!

Big, fat and firm tomatoes took up one large section of one of the displays, and the bright redness was a tempting sight. The tomatoes are selling at 25 cents a pound, and sure taste good sliced with cold meat, broiled with a steak, in salads, as snacks . . . or in dozens of other ways. Everyone in our house loves them, so we have to keep a good supply on hand. At this price, it's a pleasure.

Local peas, all ready for shelling, provide another source of balanced-meal nourishment. They're a colorful and good-tasting food, wonderful for summer meals. The price is 25 cents a pound. For 29 cents a pound you can buy fresh green beans. Cook them with a touch of soda, to keep the fresh, green shade, strain, and put a pat or two of butter on them, add a dash of salt and pepper, and there you have a vegetable dish to delight your family, and a real appetizer.

Also selling at 29 cents a pound is asparagus. Locally grown cauliflower, so good with a cheese sauce and sprinkled with chopped parsley, is selling at 25 cents each.

Bring out the butter dish! The salt and pepper, too. And don't forget a great big napkin, 'cause it's time for corn on the cob. Or perhaps you don't get as messed up as I do when you eat this luscious food. I find that butter drips here and there, and the first thing you know, I look as if I'd never heard of knives and forks. But it's all in the fun of summer eating. Corn on the cob, all golden and juicy, are now four for 25 cents at the local stands. I must admit that in our house we've adopted the little corn forks, that you stick on each end to form handles. It helps a lot, especially if the corn is hot. You can buy a set, complete with eight corn forks, four plates in the shape of a cob, partitioned with a place for butter, all for $1.49. Or you may buy the corn forks separately at under 50 cents for six.

Lettuce, grown locally, also, is 12 cents a head, and local carrots, two bunches for 21 cents. Radishes are six cents a bunch, and green onions are two bunches for 15 cents.

In the line of fruit, plums are 32 cents a pound; green seedless grapes, 49 cents a pound; large pineapples, 65 cents each; cantaloupe, two for 35 cents, and my ever-favorite strawberries, about 30 cents a box, and going down. The berries are absolutely huge, and very sweet.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Exercise Mind and 'Think Young' to Remain Youthful

I believe that it is entirely possible to think oneself into either premature aging or into prolonged youthfulness. Not only does "thinking old" lead to dreary attitudes, but it catches you in ruts of sameness and boredom and cuts off the stimulation of new thoughts, activities and friends.

Our life is not unlike that of a plant's life — as long as it's growing it is bright and fresh. When it stops growing it begins to die. So it is with humans. Every time we repeat the same old motions, and follow the same old routines simply from force of habit with no real enthusiasm, we are going through the process of aging. When we stop thinking new thoughts and seeking new experiences we speed up the aging process.

Youth constantly is looking forward to new experiences, thinking new thoughts, reaching out into the world about for new and better ways. People past 40 or 50 who have a sparkle in their eyes usually have new ideas in their heads. They are people who are looking forward rather than back, who are interested in better ways to do old things, who are excited about everything new on the marvelous horizon of modern life.

Our minds and emotions need exercising as well as our muscles if they are to remain supple and youthful. "Thinking young" has an effect on our glands, our digestion and our general physical condition. Also, the mind that is busy has little time for petty physical discomforts and minimizes rather than exaggerates them.

It is a well-known fact that women in professional life have much less trouble at menopause than women in the home. The reason for this seems apparent. The woman who works in the world outside her home cannot afford to pamper herself as much as she could if she was at home all day, and this mental outlook seems to lead to less physical stress.

With present day knowledge of psychosomatic medicine, or the effects of the emotions and thoughts of health, and the latest geriatric information, age is rapidly becoming a matter of condition rather than of years.

Gardens Open Adjourning

St. Mark's Woman's Auxiliary and Guild have arranged the annual garden party at the home and garden of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Shemelt, 3255 Harriet Road, and in the adjourning garden of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Mills, 3261 Harriet Road, next Wednesday, July 6, commencing at 2.30 p.m. There will be stalls of home cooking, fancywork, white elephant and ice cream. Afternoon tea will be served.

Annual Banquet

Chatelaine Club of the YWCA held its annual banquet in the Tartan Room, McEwen's restaurant. The annual report, summing up year's activities and allotment of funds to various local charities, was read by Mrs. Beryl Nickel, president. She also introduced the executive for the coming year as Mrs. Charlotte Molnar, president; Mrs. Margaret Lindstrom, vice-president; Mrs. Elva Porteous, secretary; Mrs. Edythe Holdsworth, treasurer; Mrs. Jean Baldock, refreshments, and Mrs. Frances McLaughlin, publicity. Corsages and gifts were presented to Miss Mae Brown, retiring executive director of the YWCA who is leaving to take a position at Vancouver YWCA, and Miss Shirley Main, retiring program director. Miss Kennedy, receptionist, was also a guest. It was decided to hold a picnic for club members and their children at Willows Beach on July 13. After dinner cards were enjoyed with prizes won by Mrs. Almeda Scott and Mrs. Beryl Nickel.

AS WE LIVE

Predatory Neighbors 'Borrow' Everything

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

Some people have little respect for property rights. They do not mean to be destructive, but they sometimes are.

Hurlock

(Q)—"I am a middle-aged woman and we live in a block where most of the families are much younger than we. Now, don't mistake what I am saying; I get along well with my neighbors, but I am concerned about some of the things they do. For example, they come to our garage and borrow our garden tools without asking permission or without leaving a note to say they have taken them. They often fail to return them and my husband goes from house to house until he locates them. Sometimes they are rusty from having been left out in the rain. Yesterday I came home to find all my ice gone from the refrigerator. As it was a hot day, I wanted to serve iced tea for supper. My next-door neighbor came in during the evening and told me she had some unexpected company so she borrowed my ice. What can one do without incurring the ill-will of one's neighbors?"

(A)—Not a great deal with such neighbors, unfortunately. However, a few things are certainly worth the try.

First of all, keep your things in places where the neighbors cannot get at them. Couldn't your husband keep his garden tools in the basement if he does not want to keep the garage door locked?

As for you, why not lock your doors when you go out to keep the neighbors from walking in and helping themselves to things? It may not seem very neighborly, and it is not always convenient to other family members to come home to a locked house. However, if you hide a house key in some safe place outdoors where every member of the family will know where to find it, you can then lock up whenever you leave the house and thus prevent future raids.

The big beach cloche of straw serves the same purpose as a hood or a towel; it provides cover-up. Made of lightweight straw in brilliant colors.

CLUB WOMEN'S NEWS

Parksville Party—Plans were made at meeting of Esquimalt Chapter, IODE, for members to motor to Parksville on July 29 for a picnic at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Floyd. Mrs. Warren Smith presided; Mrs. H. R. Milburn was elected convener of immigration and Canadianship, and Mrs. A. G. Fulmer, convener of a coffee party that will be held in September.

Institute Pins—Final meeting of the season for Victoria Women's Institute was highlighted by presentation of life membership certificates and pins to five members, Mrs. E. L. Johns, Mrs. G. Upward, Mrs. T. J. Sadler, Mrs. M. Bridge and Mrs. E. Fanthorpe. Presentation was made by Mrs. E. Emory. Refreshments were served.

Bangles for the beach come in plastic that's immune to sand, sun and water. Load up on an armful of bracelets in a rainbow of colors.

Play shoes of denim come in patterns as well as colors this year. And some even sport gold nailhead trim.

Scottish Headmistress

Mrs. Faith McNeel Caird, graduate of Frobel College, Roehampton, England, has been appointed headmistress of St. Christopher's School, it has been announced by J. Ian Simpson, who recently acquired ownership of St. Christopher's School. Mrs. Caird was teaching in Scotland prior to taking the appointment at St. Christopher's in Oak Bay.

Sailing on Saxonia

Mrs. J. E. Brown, West Saanich Road, left this week for Great Britain for a two-month trip. She was accompanied by her son, Mr. Willard Brown, Vancouver, and sailed on board the Cunard's Saxonia from Montreal.

In Honor Of the Bride

A cluster of confetti-filled balloons were placed over the bride-elect's chair at a recent shower in honor of Miss Eileen Kuusinen, at the home of Mrs. C. W. A. Drader, 576 Niagara Street. Co-hostess was Mrs. Charles Peltomaa. After the guest of honor was seated in her chair decorated with white and yellow streamers, the balloons were broken, letting a shower of confetti fall about her. A basket decorated with white and yellow held the miscellaneous gifts. Miss Kuusinen received a corsage of pink carnations, while her mother, Mrs. I. Kuusinen, received yellow carnations. Pansies and yellow rosebuds centred the refreshment table, where Mrs. Drader and Mrs. Kuusinen presided. Guests included Mrs. J. Wowchuk, Mrs. S. Johnson, Mrs. R. Sams, Mrs. N. McLean, Mrs. E. Niemento, Mrs. H. Hietula, Mrs. T. Antikainen, Mrs. T. M. Anderson, Mrs. Peter Carlson, Mrs. R. Ponkanen, Mrs. Ken Payne, Mrs. W. E. Drader, Mrs. E. Anderson, Mrs. Mel Knudson, Mrs. T. Yule, Mrs. D. MISS MAXWELL

Cousins Pace Each Other on Road to Retirement

By ELIZABETH FORBES

Cousins born in different parts of Canada and following completely different careers retire this month, from separate positions, in Victoria.

They are Miss Lola Maxwell, senior girls' counsellor at Victoria High School and Miss Marjorie Baird, director of nurses in the local branch of the Victorian Order of Nurses.

Officially, Miss Maxwell, concluded her work at VHS a week ago but she has been busy "tying up the ends" for the past few days from her attractive suite in the DeCosmos Apartments on Yates Street.

Miss Baird, on the other hand, left for her office in Spencerhouse at the usual time this morning to "sit-in" on a final day's work.

The two cousins came to Victoria by widely divergent paths.

Miss Maxwell, born in Stratford, Ont., attended school there and on completion of teacher training set her eyes on far-off fields. "It was to be Japan," she reminisces, "but when a friend of mine struck off for Australia, I changed my mind, and went along."

She taught two years in a Presbyterian girls' school in Warwick, Queensland.

She saw Victoria first from the deck of her Australia-bound ship "and I immediately knew that someday I wanted to live here." When she returned however, it was to teach in Vernon for several years. Finally reaching Victoria, Miss Maxwell became first counsellor in Victoria High School. Since that time, she has listened to the troubles and helped to smooth out the paths of hundreds of young people.

SHE GUIDED YOUTH

"When they needed help, they needed it badly," she says.

"Even those who had excellent counselling at home and splendid guidance sometimes wished to pour out their troubles to an outsider."

It was exacting work, Miss Maxwell acknowledges, but very rewarding, especially in associations that continued after school years are through. "Do you know, I have seven godchildren," she told me, "the children of young people I have taught in past years."

Looking around at her attractive apartment you see other tangible evidence of the respect and regard of former pupils, in the gifts she has received. Because she is an ardent gardener and was responsible for the making of the gardens at the De Cosmos some of these gifts have even included sacks of good earth from outlying districts. "There was no garden here at all when I moved in a year after the apartment was built."

Now it is "Lola Maxwell's garden and the apartment owners simply leave it in her hands.

She loves all flowers but her greatest love is the iris family. "I spend a fortune on them," she says.

It is in her garden then, that you will find Lola Maxwell on many occasions from now on. She does plan a trip to Mexico early next year. She has a color camera and the VHS staff presented her with a projector as a farewell gift. She is a member of a reading club—twenty-five friends who have been meeting regularly for many years—also the PEO Sisterhood, University Extension and the Iris Society of America.

"I've simply closed one door and opened another," she explains her retirement, "and the view ahead is interesting and satisfying."

HELPS SICK AND AGED

Miss Marjorie Baird was born and educated in Winnipeg and trained as a nurse in Presbyterian General Hospital, New York. She spent some time with the Margaret Scott Mission in Winnipeg, with the VON in Winnipeg, and studied public health on a VON scholarship in Toronto, also in Minneapolis, and was on the VON board in Edmonton before coming to Victoria in 1943.

In a way her work parallels Miss Maxwell's, for she too is helping people in trouble but with sicknesses of body and mind.

She lives with her sister Helen in a charming home on Richmond Road.

The cousins share a love of gardening, which Miss Baird claims they come by honestly, for her father and Miss Maxwell's mother were ardent gardeners, too.

Miss Baird is looking forward to "time." Time to garden; time to read; time to travel. At the beginning of the week she and her sister take off "for a quick trip to Penticton"; then they will return to "do a bit of weeding."

"I loathe weeds in a garden," Marjorie Baird says. Asked about her favorite flowers she added, "Not the iris, all I know about them is that they are blue (it happens there are 155 varieties of iris, Miss Maxwell says, and just as many variations of color).

MISS BAIRD

Chrysanthemums, Miss Baird claims, are her favorites, "perhaps because they are the most trouble."

Looking further ahead Marjorie Baird confesses that she and her sister have been eyeing folders on the West Indies.

If she has another hobby it is the Gorge Road Treatment Hospital "where you'll likely see me on many occasions from now on."

You can be sure that, like Miss Maxwell, she is going to enjoy her retirement.

More Women Needed in Government

WINNIPEG (CP) — A Winnipeg woman says 25 per cent of House of Commons seats should be held by women if a "good job" in government is to be done.

Miss Hilda Hesson, who addressed the recent annual conference of the Soroptimist International of Western Canada, told delegates that women must take a more active part in the affairs of the Dominion and the provinces.

She said:

"We need more and more women in every aspect of community work. . . Women have different ideas to men but it takes men and women working together to do a good job. Women give attention to detail and the human relations while men must know about the financial set-up of the city and country."

Women owed a debt of gratitude to five Alberta women who had appealed to the Privy Council and made women "persons," she said. They were not women in the eyes of the law until these five women had the courage to fight for the status.

The women were judge Emily Murphy, Nellie McClung, Irene Parlby, Mrs. Louis McKinney and Mrs. Henrietta Muir Edwards. They "met hardship and difficulty" but they won the fight for suffrage in Canada.

Federal Women's Institutes Ask For a Federal Government Grant

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Federated Women's Institutes of Canada, with its 90,000 members, has always "crippled itself with a shoestring budget," Mrs. J. W. Adams of Ethelton, Sask., national president, said recently at the 19th biennial conference at the University of Manitoba.

In a plea for a national convention and permanent headquarters, Mrs. Adams said that "when the national organization was formed in 1919, it was expected that an annual grant would be forthcoming from the federal government. It is still coming."

"The government's support has been most generous for special projects but one cannot budget on special projects. The onus for the growing responsibilities of this vast movement rests on the shoulders of the individual member."

Mrs. Adams said that all Women's Institute work, except in Alberta, had the support in varying degrees of either the department of agriculture or an extension service.

"Our conservation project taking in a broad field could save a lot of things and one of the most important to rural women—to all women—is our extension work, the home economics services, and these should be regarded by us as the married woman's university where we continue 'learning for living,'" she said.

"No longer must we be known as 'the little button-holders.'"

Presentation of the Henry Marshall Tory award was made to the WFIC by F. W. Ransom on behalf of the Canadian Association of Adult Education in recognition of "distinguished achievement in adult education."

Dance Revue Nets $264

Report given at social meeting of the Canadian Daughter's League, Assembly No. 5, showed a sum of $264 netted from the Florence Clough Dance Revue for benevolent work of the assembly. Prizes for highest ticket sales were presented to Miss Valerie Parking, and Miss Sandra Smith, and a gift to Miss Clough. A donation of $100 was made to the building fund for the new Queen Alexandra Solarium in memory of a former member, Catherine Tanner. During the social evening, Mrs. C. Jasper gave a talk on her recent trip to Chicago and Salt Lake City, supplemented with movies shown by Charlie Watson. Mr. Watson also showed pictures of his trips to California and Alberta.

Log Race Held

The Latonia, skippered by Mrs. Agnes Logan, won first prize in the annual log race from Canoe Cove to Bedwell Harbor, held by the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Capital City Yacht Club. Fourteen boats competed. Mrs. Leona Cox, in Tide Too, and Mrs. Edna Henshall in Ysidro also received prizes, one for second place, and the other a consolation prize. A community supper followed by a dance completed the evening.

OAK BAY BEACH HOTEL

We are now serving a la carte dinners each evening until 8.15, with the exception of Sundays and Mondays, on which our usual table d'hote dinners will be served. On Friday evening, July 1, at 9 p.m., Mrs. MacDonald will show colored slides of the recent Chamber of Commerce good-will tour through Washington State. On Saturday, July 2, at 9 p.m., there will be a concert in our lounge featuring Marlene Vance, soprano, and John Dunbar, baritone; at the piano, Lorraine Brand.

CLIMAX'S PLAY, "THE DANCE," SLATED FOR C-11 AT 8.30

HERE ARE TONIGHT'S and the Friday Holiday highlights in order of their appearance.

THURSDAY

6.30: Channel 5—Pond's Theatre presents "Death Is a Spanish Dancer," about a worried widower who overprotects his only child, a crippled daughter.

8.00: Channel 2—Murder follows the jealous rivalry over a carnival owner's daughter, in which Roy Rogers is involved.

8.30: Channel 2—One-hour program, Canadian Track and Field.

8.30: Channel 11—Climax stars Janet Blair, Richard Kiley, Ethel Waters and Vanessa Brown in "The Dance," about jealousies in a small southern town.

9.00: Channel 4—Dragnet sees Friday and Smith probing a tunnel that runs up under and into a bank.

Channel 5: Star Tonight shows Rod Serling's "Strength of Steel" wherein a young army wife goes to live with her father while her husband is on duty.

Channel 13: Seattle Rainiers play Oakland Acorns.

9.30: Channel 2—Kraft Theatre presents the excellent "Someone to Hang," wherein a local girl is murdered and a stranger in town is accused of the deed by the girl's brother.

Channels 4 and 12—Ford Theatre presents Laraine Day and Richard Denning in the comedy, "The Legal Beagles."

Channel 11: Ida Lupino and Franchot Tone star in "Award," about a ruthless Hollywood actress who has to turn to a director after a flop.

10.00: Channel 4—Lux Theatre shows "Last Year's Snow," about suspicion and murder—the murderer has to be one of the five guests at a hunting lodge.

10.30: Channel 2—Profiles studies the life and works of poet Carl Sandburg.

11.00: Channel 2—Joan Blondell stars in "Bombshell Goes to College" on the Eddie Cantor program, about a chorus girl who marries a staid professor.

FRIDAY

7.00: Channel 4—Sports newsreel replaces the Friday night fight for the summer. Tonight's film clips highlight baseball, horse racing, water skiing, golf and track and field.

7.30: Channel 2—Canada Day is observed on TV by a leisurely visit across the nation—not forgetting Victoria—with commentator Thom Benson.

8.00: Channel 5—Lieut. Masters is drummed out of the service for cowardice in this latest episode of "Rin Tin Tin, "The Outcast of Fort Apache."

8.30: Channel 4—Cap'n John hunts a firebug on Waterfront, just to clear some of his friends who are under suspicion.

9.00: Channel 4—Tonight's Big Story is called "The Helpless Ones," about a black market baby racket.

Channel 11: Playhouse of Stars stars Raymond Burr and Marilyn Erskine in "The Ordeal of Dr. Sutton," about a doctor's decision to enter private practice.

Channel 13: Baseball—Seattle plays Oakland Acorns.

9.30: Channel 2—Vancouver baseball: Lucky Royals play North Stars.

10.00: Channel 11—First film on the new Undercurrent drama series is "The House on Judas Street," wherein a young school teacher becomes worried over the peculiar behavior of her landlord's son.

10.30: Channel 4—Victory at Sea shows the "Fate of Europe," highlighting the collapse of the Hitler war machine.

11.00: Channel 4—Barbara Stanwyck is scheduled to star in the late movie "The Other Love," about a woman patient falling in love with her doctor.

CARROLL RIGHTER'S ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

FRIDAY, JULY 1, 1955

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)—Getting suggestions from some newcomers who have background enabling them to give experienced viewpoint opens your eyes to greater happiness, well-being than you've experienced before this. Be open-minded.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)—Listening to that insistent hunch that just keeps you on your toes explains way you can attain greater harmony, concord with family, where finances also are concerned. Get financial obligations paid.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)—Much restless moving about as well as intermittent conversation with partners brings out better way to handle current association problems. Study items in paper, periodicals before coming to decision.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21)—Plunging energetically into all sorts of labor confronting you—congenial and tiresome—really makes you more respected, admired, efficient. Beneficial financial conditions then occur for you right now.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)—Up early, getting yourself in fine fettle, despite desire to lie abed and luxuriate. Your own aims and ambitions are so close to you, you merely have to reach out to pluck them. P.M. fine for sports, romance, adventure, recreation.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)—Getting family affairs in better shape requires you fuss less about trifles, make a greater effort to understand what is in mind of ones you like, adore. Plan future with eye to greater assets, abundance.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)—Stop sitting around your home, office, usual haunts too much. Get out in world of action today. All kinds of improved, fascinating additions await you now. Enjoy relatives, neighbors, business ties, good friends.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)—Enriching your life by realizing that an abundance, and to spare, of whatever you need is at your fingertips takes away from some of pettiness of present daily living, brings you new sense of worth. Expand now.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—This is your day to so add to your health, charm, attractiveness, physical radiance, vitality that the oncoming days are easier to take. Get out and make new contacts with wonderful, influential individuals.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)—Behind-the-scenes plans on your part should include looking to reasons, motives behind your own actions as well as those of coworkers, romantic attachments, money contacts. Then you appreciate their support.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)—Deciding what your loftiest aims, soaring aspirations now can be gains you complete backing of magnanimous, generous partner who is tired of usual run-around and who looks to you for idealistic support.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20)—Making those who have any control over you or your affairs more aware of your devotion to them brings you unqualified support in plans you deem vital to your happiness. Plug away, showing your finest talents, aptitudes.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN FRIDAY . . . Friday's child is one of those very interesting youngsters whose mind will roam the universe and who will want to know at least a little about everything. It is necessary that you give your child a chance to travel—in the flesh as well as in spiritual precepts, proven principles, right-living convictions. Fine chart for all that has to do with foreign languages, foreign securities, lecturing, writing, bringing to his or her own clan a greater awareness of how the rest of the world lives.

SATURDAY, JULY 2, 1955

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)—Discussing with those whose background, experience is very different from your own how to secure more knowledge, insight into fascinating outlets brings inspired ideas for your whole future. Be open-minded.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)—Getting more income, revenue, bills paid, cash in hand requires that you go along more readily with financial wizards, understanding supporters. Stop being so stubborn. Listen to understand other fellow's viewpoint.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)—Much conversation with outspoken partners brings to your attention all kinds of courses that can be mutually beneficial without upsetting present satisfactory undertakings. Increase scope of your ventures now.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21)—Looking early at all chores objectively, so that you have no feeling they are more than you can attend, brings to your mind a sensible system for finishing and making food, diet, apparel, household appliances, etc., more efficient.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)—Focussing your thoughts, attention upon investments, creative and artistic oulets brings improved methods for completing same. P.M. get all dressed up, go out on the town and have fun.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)—Now you have fine day to look at conditions at home. Ferret out any termites which may be taking away from solid foundation, accord there. Get rid of them. Then paint, repair all that is shoddy, run-down. Delight family.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)—Stop procrastinating, let others see that you can dash around, get lots of errands done. Confer with those not available during the week. Make sure you do arrive at understanding with kin, neighbors, comrades.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)—Seeking ways, means for increasing your whole financial structure can now be accomplished. Be sure you look to outlets that bring in more profits for best expression. Pay bills, collect moneys owed you. Be broad in vision.

SAGITARRIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—This is your day to decide upon changes and new beginnings that will make you feel more in tune with persons, conditions about you. Let yourself listen to understand suggestions given by experts. Avoid being choppy.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)—Sitting down with outspoken companions, finding out just how they feel about your current relations with them brings chance to find out some surprising disagreement you didn't know existed. Replace with real accord.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)—Your newspaper, other periodicals, library, etc., has exact information you need to cement that deal, contact, pleasure with others now. Use this weekend to get out, make new, experienced companions for future success. Be happy.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20)—This is your day to take good look at your current conditions as they are affected by others. Make sure you are quiet long enough to let deep, intuitive, accurate hunch come to the fore. Then follow intelligently.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN SATURDAY . . . Saturday's child is one of those very broad-minded personages who will be interested in all types of philosophies, religions, social service occupations, journalistic and writing careers. Make sure you early give your child an education which includes not only proven precepts and worthwhile convictions, but also the practical means by which these idealistic concepts can be made to operate efficiently in every-day living. Always explain reason for any disciplining to your progeny for satisfactory handling.

Union Seeks Hearing Before Police Probe

'Low Morale' Charge May Be Aired Before Vancouver Royal Commission

(From CP Dispatches)

The policemen's union in Vancouver wans representation in the forthcoming investigation into the police department of the Mainland metropolis.

Reports from Vancouver today said the Police Federal Union met Wednesday to outline a brief that will be presented to R. H. Tupper in the royal commission probe next week.

The brief, to be presented by union president Fred Dougherty and legal counsel Harry Spring, will support the union's charges that morale on the force is low and that there is lack of confidence in the administration.

Meanwhile, it was announced the Vancouver Police Commission will demand an additional $77,000 this year to rectify a "serious" reduction in police strength.

"It is imperative we get this $77,000," said Mayor Fred Hume, commission chairman, at a meeting Wednesday.

The commission's action follows a "confidential memo" from Chief Constable Walter Mulligan now on leave of absence pending a royal commission investigation into charges of graft and corruption within the 700-man force.

"I am not satisfied we have sufficient men on the force," said Magistrate Oscar Orr, a member of the three-man commission.

Mayor Hume termed the situation serious. "We must get more money if we are going to man the beats properly," he said.

Magistrate Orr said a "certain thinning down of beat constables" will have to be made in some areas of the city because of the large number of men leaving the force.

"Naturally we are not going to say where these men will be taken from," he said.

Milk Workers' Pay Decision in July

Report of a conciliation board sitting in a dispute between three Victoria dairy firms and about 11 mainland dairies, and employees of local 464 Milk Drivers' and Dairy Employees' Union is expected to be tabled by the second week of July.

Officers said a decision for Vancouver workers would likely be known July 4, with a separate report made for the Victoria section July 11.

The board will decide on wages and whether or not a five-day milk delivery week will be initiated. Deliveries are presently made daily except Sunday and employers propose to eliminate Wednesday in addition.

Former B.C. Agent-General Dies at 93

Former agent-general for B.C. in London, Saanich Liberal MLA, board of trade president and former city alderman, Frederick A. Pauline died in Royal Jubilee Hospital today aged 93.

He had been living in retirement here at his home, 940 Foul Bay Road.

Funeral service, at which many provincial and civic dignitaries are expected to attend, will be held Saturday at 3 p.m. from Hayward's Funeral Chapel, Archdeacon A. E. deL. Nunns officiating. Cremation at Royal Oak will follow.

Born at Henley-on-Thames in 1861, he was educated there and at St. Mary's College, London. He came to B.C. in 1884 and started his career here as a newspaper reporter, then set up a partnership in a wholesale dry-goods store. He did so well he retired in 1911.

He was president of the Victoria Board of Trade 1907-08, an alderman the same year. He was elected Liberal member for Saanich in 1916, re-elected in 1920, and in 1922 was elected Speaker.

LIFETIME PENSION

Mr. Pauline was defeated in 1924 and early the following year was sent to London as agent-general, a position he held until retiring in 1930. He was given a lifetime pension of $4,200 a year by a grateful government.

During the First World War Mr. Pauline was one of three commissioners appointed to inquire into conduct of the provincial election among troops overseas in 1916. Following the war he served as chairman of the Canadian Patriotic Fund.

His wife, Charlotte, predeceased him in 1952, and a son, Frederick Charles, in 1948.

He is survived by one son, Oliver William, of Victoria; three sisters, Mrs. J. S. La Praik, Etna, Cal., Mrs R. H. Williams, Vancouver, and Mrs. H. N. Short, Victoria; four grandchildren, Carolyn, Victoria, Mrs. T. I. Cormack in Germany, Desmond in Alameda, Cal., and Murray in Vancouver; also three great-grandchildren.

FORMER TIMES MAN

UN Must Admit China Says CBC's Reporter

The United Nations cannot function properly or deal with the Formosa question and other world issues without UN representation by communist China, CBC commentator at UN headquarters, Peter Stursberg, said here Wednesday.

The former Victoria Times newspaperman, who has been at UN headquarters in New York since 1950, said of the "unresolved and vexatious issue: "We have been living in a never-never land. Not only is it childish, but dangerous."

Because of lack of Red China representation in the UN, with resulting communist exclusion from all world organizations such as UNESCO, W.H.O. and others, "a big gap" existed in vital world information.

"Perhaps the worst example is concerning narcotics," said the speaker. The narcotics commission "solemnly" voted against admission of Chinese communists, yet the largest poppy-growing area in the world was mainland China.

LOGICAL MOVE

If Red China was flooding the western world with narcotics, as had been charged in some publications, then surely admission of the Reds to the commission responsible for control would be a logical move, he said.

"By keeping them (Communist China) out, the UN can't fill the function of keeping the peace."

On Formosa problems, he said there was "no point" in UN discussion of the issue without the communists, "and they won't discuss it unless they get a seat."

He said he was personally hopeful of a change following upcoming talks at Geneva by the Big Four. "It may be settled when the UN meets next September."

ONE VOTE SHORT

The China-born commentator said that if in 1950 the British UN delegation had exerted a little more pressure to seat Communist China, "the history of the world may have been very different." The move to seat the Reds was at that time lost by one vote, Britain favored admission.

Pressure would have lessened the danger of war over Formosa and adjacent islands, he said.

Since then the Red China recognition issue had been "sidestepped" in the UN by various diplomatic manoeuvres.

A move to condemn so-called United States aggression in Korea, he said, was lost but delegates votipg for censure represented the overwhelming numbers of the world's population, which included the Soviet bloc and India.

"So the moral: don't believe everything you read and hear, except, of course, from me." Polite laughter followed.

Mr. Stursberg made his remarks before a joint meeting of the Women's Canadian Club and Canadian Club of Victoria at the Empress Hotel.

He was introduced by club president, D. A. M. Patterson and thanked by women's club president Mrs. Gordon Wismer.

SOCREDS

One of the 10 Social Credit "originals"—members who gained office in the 1935 landslide—was defeated. W. E. Cain lost Bow Valley - Empress to Independent Bryce C. Stringham.

Social Crediters John C. Landeryou and Roy S. Lee recovered the seats they resigned in the last session after the legislature was told they were part-owners of an Edmonton office building being leased to the government.

Mr. Lee, first elected in Taber in 1940, and Mr. Landeryou, elected in 1944, were told on the eve of the election by Premier Manning that they did not have his backing or support from the Social Credit League.

Mr. Lee battled two opponents including an independent Social Crediter who was nominated by a Social Credit group which said it wanted to vote the party ticket but not for Mr. Lee.

Results in several single-member constituencies were close enough to merit second counts under the alternative-vote system—the second choices on the trailing candidate's ballots being distributed to the others.

RESULTS DELAYED

The proportional representation system of voting also delayed results from the multi-seat Edmonton and Calgary ridings.

Only Mr. Manning and Mr. Prowse were elected before night counting ended in Edmonton, where 30 candidates contested seven seats. CCF leader Elmer E. Roper and J. Percy Page, Progressive Conservative leader in the last House, also ran in Edmonton.

Similarly, only two members were elected in Calgary, where 23 candidates ran for six seats.

In the last election, it took 36 hours and 26 counts to elect all Edmonton members.

Standing in the house of dissolution: Social Credit 49, Liberal 4, Progressive Conservative 3, CCF 2, independent Social Credit 1, vacant 2.

Provincial Secretary Wesley Black is expected to release a report shortly resulting from a full-scale investigation of maltreatment of an inmate of Essondale.

An inquiry was ordered in February, following an incident in which patient Frank F. Palenchuck received bruises and slight fractures. Judge F. K. Grimmett of Chilliwack, was ordered to conduct the probe, under the Departmental Inquiries Act.

Burglars overnight ransacked the office of Alert Service Transfer Co. Ltd., Williams Building, 749 Broughton.

City police said nothing was reported missing. They found a front door to a hall portion of the building open, a door on the second floor also open and a ladder leading to the roof.

The choir of St. John's Church will share in a choral and instrumental recital which is slated for late October under direction of Frederick Chubb. The event is in aid of Albert Schweitzer's hospital at Lambarene, French Equatorial Africa.

Baess Leading Royals Regatta Eliminations

Final seven elimination races for the Royals Regatta will be sailed at the Royal Victoria Yacht Club on July 9 and 10.

The third series was won by Hamish Dunn Wednesday night.

Jorgen Baess was second, Humphrey Golby, third; Harry Barnes, fourth, and David Angus, fifth.

Present standing of skippers is Baess, first; Dunn, second; Golby and Barnes, third; Angus, fifth.

A single race in the Lightning class was won by Rania (Spencer Davies,) followed by Pukeko (Roy Murdock), Froilc (Fred Packford), and Venture (George Humestone).

MUIR SWIM

Atlast skipper is Stan Janes, who will keep the vessel on course at all times, even though the swimmer may be trailing behind.

A small boat will be used to keep beside Muir, and it is expected a third, larger boat will be in the flotilla.

NEW SPONSOR

Sponsor for this attempt is the new Lansdowne Cafe, near Shelbourne, which opens July 15.

Webb, whose course last week was praised from all quarters, said he is taking no part in the new Muir attempt because he does not agree on the route.

Despite the stipulation in the Port Angeles prize plans that the swimmer must take-off from the U.S. shore, Mrs. Ann Meraw, Vancouver, who plans an attempt between July 5 and 12, confirmed she will swim from this side.

In training at Sidney, the housewife said her plans remain unchanged, her route and starting point to be announced later.

Mrs. Meraw will be eligible for the $1,000 Times prize offered prior to Thomas' first attempt April 14. It is for the first person to swim from either shore.

Thomas is in Port Angeles today making preparations for his swim try, to take place probably following a July 4 swim exhibition at Gir Harbor, Washington.

Due back in Victoria later today, Thomas is scheduled to attempt a swim across Discovery Passage from Quadra Island to Campbell River Friday as part of Dominion Day festivities.

YMCA Camp Improvements Win Praise

Victoria YMCA directors and friends saw the fruits of a $20,000-plus investment in Camp Thunderbird improvement Wednesday and pronounced favorable judgment on the work which has been done at Glintz Lake.

The dinner guests at the camp of contractor Peter Pletnikoff, the visiting group toured the grounds, inspecting new buildings which have replaced obsolete and outworn structures, noted with particular interest the attractiveness of the construction and planning carried out under the direction of architect Rod Clack, and praised new hygienic safeguards that have been installed.

SATISFIED

Acting "Y" president Denis Humphries conveyed the thanks of the association to those who have contributed to the project, expressed satisfaction with the manner in which funds have been spent to increase the comfort and enjoyment of boys at the camp, and reported applications for registrations at this year's camp above the number which can be accommodated.

Immediately following the inspection a girls' group from Greater Victoria Presbyterian churches, which has rented the location for the following week, moved into residence.

The boys' camp will open July 11 and continue until August 15.

Duke Operating Own Helicopter

EDINBURGH (Reuters)—The Duke of Edinburgh piloted his own helicopter here Wednesday to keep up with a 12-hour-day of official engagements which started off a royal round of Scottish court duties. He took over controls from his instructor after the helicopter left the grounds of Holyrood House for a schoolchildren's camp 10 miles away. The Queen drove to the camp where the royal couple saw children from industrial areas at their lessons in country surroundings.

Canadian Club Re-Elects D. A. M. Patterson

The Victoria branch of the Canadian Club Wednesday re-elected D. A. M. Patterson

4,250,000 New Cars Turned Out By U.S. in Half Year

By DAVID J. WILKIE

DETROIT (AP) — The U.S. auto industry today winds up the biggest six months in its history. Dozens of records set since Jan. 1 attest to the hottest competitive effort in production and sales the car makers ever have known.

Final figures will show a January-June output of close to 4,250,000 passenger cars. Retail deliveries are estimated at more than 3,750,000. Dealer inventories now are estimated at around 800,000 cars.

Retail sales, of course, include part of the 350,000 cars on hand Jan. 1. Something like 155,000 units of this year's output were shipped to foreign markets.

Ahead of the industry now lies a virtually certain full year record in production—and probably in sales, too. The present output record is 6,665,863 car assemblies, attained in 1950. Thus fewer than 2,500,000 more car completions are needed in the next six months to set up a full year record.

Not so easy is the prospect for the industry's 42,000 or more new car retailers. Through the peak of their selling season they had to slash prices to achieve volume; some have sold new cars, at only a nominal markup, to used car dealers to ease the pressure of huge inventories; others have given unprecedented allowances on used cars offered as down payment on new ones.

GRAIN

WINNIPEG

WINNIPEG (CP) — Most prices were firm in moderately active trade today.

Considerable month-end evening operations in connection with the Dominion Day holiday week-end were in evidence. There was modest commercial demand and a small export interest in barley and flax.

Domestic shippers purchased oats while U.S. houses were on both sides of the market. Flax had considerable export and processing support. U.S. houses and shippers picked up rye.

Lakehead prices for class two, 1WA and domestic wheat were unchanged.

New Winnipeg Issue

MONTREAL (CP)—A new issue of $2,000,000 city of Winnipeg 3¼ per cent non-callable serial debentures was sold Wednesday to a syndicate managed by Wood, Gundy and Company.

The debentures, offered at $99, will mature 1966 to 1975.

The proceeds of the issue will be used for hydro-electric, school and waterworks extensions.

TODAY'S MARKET SUMMARIES

Oils, Golds Draw Interest at Toronto

TORONTO (CP) — Droopy tendencies developed in afternoon trading on the Toronto stock exchange, but it looked more like pre-Dominion Day lethargy than anything else. Oils and golds, however, countered the tendency.

Utilities, steels, financial institutions and refining oils made best showings among the industrials and papers and constructions were weakest. Union Gas posted a 1⅛ gain in utilities and Brazilian stayed ahead fractionally. Most other changes were fractional.

In uraniums Pardee Amalgamated climbed for a 30-cent gain to add to its $1.12 advance of the last two days. Faraday, Nicholson and Rix-Athabasca were also up. Senior uraniums showed fractional declines except for Gunnar.

Losses and gains were about evenly divided in base metals.

Canadian Pipe Line and Dome Exploration Western were strong in the oil section. In golds McIntyre advanced a point and Consolidated Discovery and Headway were ahead.

MONTREAL (CP) — Industrials leaned narrowly forward in quiet trading on the stock market today.

Aluminium climbed a point while Ogilvie moved up ¾. A half-point improved were Industrial Acceptance, Dominion Tar, B.C. Telephone, Imperial Oil and Algoma at 72.

Weston dropped a point. Off ½ were Abitibi, Quebec Power at 31, Asbestos and Ontario Steel.

Base metals and utilities showed fractional improvement while papers and steels were mixed.

VANCOUVER — The market was dull in morning trade with United Oils taking the lead, going up to $1.56 on a sale of 2,200 shares. Vantor sold 8,500 between 90 and 92. Beaver Lodge moved 5,000 at 85. Canadian Collieries sold 1,700, going to $13.25 from $12.50. Indian Mines traded 9,000 at 8½. Western Potash sold 7,000 between 80 and 86. Inland Gas moved 7,200 at $3.35. Silver Ridge sold 1,000 at 31½. Silbac traded 3,000 at 16½. Charter Oil sold 2,000 at

JULY 1 CELEBRATION at Ladysmith will feature crowning of Betty-Rae Rafter, 11-year-old candidate from Ladysmith Elementary School, who will reign as princess of festivities. Her attendants will be Linda Schofield, Margaret Backmeier, Patsy Whalen, and Connie Lowe.

ISLAND DIGEST

VARIED PROGRAMS PLANNED

Island Communities Will Honor 'Queens' at July 1 Festivities

Young queens and princesses will be paid homage at July 1 celebrations at Ladysmith, Sidney and Duncan.

Betty-Rae Rafter will be princess of the Ladysmith program at the agricultural grounds, having been chosen from among five candidates from elementary schools in the city and immediate district.

Barbara Michell led voting to defeat nine other contestants for the title of Sidney Day queen.

She will be attended by princesses Eileen Gardner and Peggy Whipple.

DUNCAN CONTEST

Three girls are vying for the title of Cowichan Lumber Queen in Duncan. They are Irene Westwick, 18, of Honeymoon Bay, who also holds the title of Lake Cowichan's "Lady of the Lake"; Muriel Hamar, 16, bank teller and native of Belfast, and Shirley Lilligard, 17, junior bank clerk. Judging will be done Friday afternoon.

May queens from centres not celebrating the July 1 holiday will take part in the programs. Beverley Noel, Nanaimo queen, with two princesses and two flower girls, will take part in the Duncan program, and May queen Etaine Acheson of Salt Spring Island will be in the Sidney parade.

Her attendants will be Norma Evanoff, Beth Bellhouse, Dolores Huish and Diane Irwin.

Varied programs have been arranged in the three lower Island centres, with Sidney boasting a parade at noon; sports, motorcycle show, air display, and gymkhana at Memorial Park in the afternoon; and boxing and wrestling in the evening.

Duncan expects a parade three-quarters of a mile long, to start at 10 a.m. Public Works Minister W. N. Chant will open the program at the agricultural grounds at 11, and children's sports will follow immediately.

Loggers' sports and a horse show will start at 1.30 p.m., and dancing at the curling arena will end the program.

Street parade, wrestling, children's sports, a firefighting demonstration, and wrestling card are scheduled at Ladysmith, but loggers' sports will be the feature attraction.

In addition to the regular competitions, Swante Kyllonen, 63, of Olympia, Wash., will repeat the act he performed in Nanaimo May 23 of topping a tree from a spring-board.

He will be followed by a new act—a demonstration of axe throwing by a group of American loggers.

Danny Sailor, champion tree-climber, will be in competition again.

BOAT RACES PLANNED

Boat racing enthusiasts will head for Campbell River, where the Campbell River Outboard Club has arranged its first meet under sanction by the Canadian Boating Federation.

Racers from Victoria, Vancouver, Nanaimo, Port Alberni, and Campbell River will compete on a course lying parallel to Campbell River split immediately north of the ore dump.

Spanking Neighbor's Child Costs Nanaimo Resident $12

NANAIMO — George Miller was fined $12 in police court here Wednesday and given a one-month suspended sentence for giving the three-year-old daughter of a neighbor a single spank.

Two other neighbors testified that they had seen the young-ster, daughter of Leslie McLeod, throwing rocks on Miller's property.

Miller himself told the court that a stone thrown by the McLeod girl narrowly missed hitting his youngest child. He had spanked the girl as he sent her home.

V.I. Chambers Back Nanaimo Wharf Project

DUNCAN, B.C. (CP)—The federal government will be asked to provide increased berthing space and extension of Nanaimo's lumber assembly wharf.

A resolution to put the matter before the federal government was one of three Nanaimo motions which passed with large majorities at the 37th annual convention of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Vancouver Island.

One of the other resolutions, to be placed before the provincial government, asks the stocking of fish lakes and rivers on Vancouver island accessible to tourists.

Hinging on this was the proposal that the chambers form a permanent committee to induce tourists to prolong their visits to Vancouver island. All chambers in the association will be represented.

Trustees Elected

GANGES — Trustees elected Wednesday to the Gulf Islands Hospital Improvement District Council were Gavin C. Mouat and Desmond G. Crofton, Salt Spring Island; W. W. Hunt-Sowery, Mayne; Dr. J. B. Hallowes, Saturna; W. J. R. Beech, Pender.

A SALAD TO TAKE TO THE PICNIC
Hearty Potato Salad. So satisfying when you make it with Best Foods—the whole-egg mayonnaise that blends perfectly with everything. Make up your favourite potato salad, then mix with Parsley Mayonnaise. Really good!
Parsley Mayonnaise: With 1 cup of Best Foods real Mayonnaise mix ¼ cup chopped parsley, 1 tablespoon chopped chives, 1 tablespoon chopped onion, ¼ cup cream or milk. Mix well — then taste. Notice how rich and fresh-tasting your mayonnaise is? That's because Best Foods real Mayonnaise is made with whole eggs, freshly broken, for a smooth, mild flavour. And see how well Best Foods blends, too—doesn't thin out. In fact, you can add up to 25% cream or milk, fruit juices or French Dressing to Best Foods, and it still keeps its smooth, creamy consistency. This means you can make Best Foods go lots farther—it's just like getting an extra quarter of a jar free.

Socreds Win In Alberta; Majority Cut

One Cabinet Minister Defeated Two Others Trail; Count Continues

EDMONTON (CP)—Alberta's Social Credit government faced a stronger opposition today as it continued on the road leading to a quarter-century of uninterrupted power.

The party which has governed Alberta for 20 years was returned for its sixth consecutive term in Wednesday's general election with a mandate which will carry it through the next four or five years with a firm majority.

But the Liberals who formed the official opposition in the last House gained strength and increased their popular vote at the expense of the Social Credit forces.

When counting ended Wednesday night this was the party standing compared with the result of the 1952 election:

	1955	1952
SC	32	52
Lib	6	4
PC	1	2
Lib-PC	1	—
Cln	1	—
Ind	1	—
Ind-SC	—	1
CCF	1	2
Dbtfl	18	—
Total	61	61

The Social Credit popular vote decreased to 49 per cent from 56 per cent while the Liberal popular increased to 30 from 22 per cent

It was Social Credit's fourth election victory under the leadership of Premier E. C. Manning, who combines religious work with politics. He took over after the death in 1943 of William Aberhart, who founded the Social Credit party in Alberta and led it in the 1935 sweep.

MINISTER DEFEATED

Mr. Manning and Liberal leader J. Harper Prowse were re-elected. It was Mr. Prowse's third election since he took over the party leadership in 1947. Liberals have been out of power since 1921.

Eight cabinet ministers were returned. But Lands and Forests Minister Ivan Casey was defeated in Okotoks-High River by Ross Ellis, a Liberal-Progressive Conservative.

BENNETT SENDS BEST WISHES

Premier W. A. C. Bennett Wednesday night congratulated Alberta Premier E. C. Manning on the Social Credit victory in Alberta's provincial general election.

In a telegram to Manning, the premier said: "Heartiest congratulations on your personal victory, and the re-election of your government."

Liberals Show 8% Increase In Popular Vote

PCs Double Vote; Socreds Down 8%

EDMONTON (CP) — Alberta polled a record provincial election vote Wednesday. The winning Social Credit party's share was reduced to 48 per cent from its 56 per cent in the last two elections.

Reports from 2,549 of 2,984 polls showed 307,387 votes cast. Many city polls were still to come when the tabulation was made at 10:30 a.m. and there was no doubt the final total would exceed the previous high of 308,864 in 1940.

The Liberal party's share of the vote rose by the margin Social Credit's fell. Liberals received 30 per cent of the vote compared with 22 in the 1952 election, CCF nine per cent compared with 14, Progressive Conservatives seven per cent compared with four.

The party vote compared with vote in the last election, (percentages bracketed):

	1955	1952
SC	147,382 (48)	167,789 (56)
Lib	93,930 (30)	66,738 (22)
Lib	93,930 (30)	66,738 (22)
CCF	26,853 (9)	41,929 (14)
PC	21,264 (7)	10,791 (4)
Others	17,968 (6)	10,908 (4)
Totals	307,387	298,335

These figures, however, do not indicate total number of voters but number of votes cast. In this election there was one six-member constituency, in which each voter could mark his ballot for six candidates, and one seven-member constituency in which he could vote for seven.

Fraser River Flood Peak Saturday

VANCOUVER (CP) — Dike patrols are maintaining a round-the-clock watch on British Columbia's rivers, swollen by the annual mountain runoff and five straight days of rain.

Some flash flooding was reported as small creeks and rivers spilled over their banks but major rivers appeared under control.

J. L. MacDonald, B.C. diking commissioner, said he was confident dikes strengthened after the disastrous 1948 flood will withstand the onrushing waters.

He said present indications were the river would peak at about 23 feet at Mission by Saturday. The dikes are built to withstand a 27-foot level.

Drew Urges Government Find Job for Gen. Simonds

OTTAWA (BUP)—Opposition leader George Drew urged in the Commons today that the government find a job in Canada or outside it for Lt. Gen. Guy Simonds, 52, who retires as chief of the general staff on a $10,500 a year pension Aug. 31.

Drew renewed criticism of the government's handling of Simonds' retirement, which was announced earlier this month. He questioned Defence Minister Ralph Campney's explanation that it was the logical result of a policy of automatic rotation. The minister said two weeks ago that the end of Simonds' normal four-year term would be about seven months over its limit by the time he steps out.

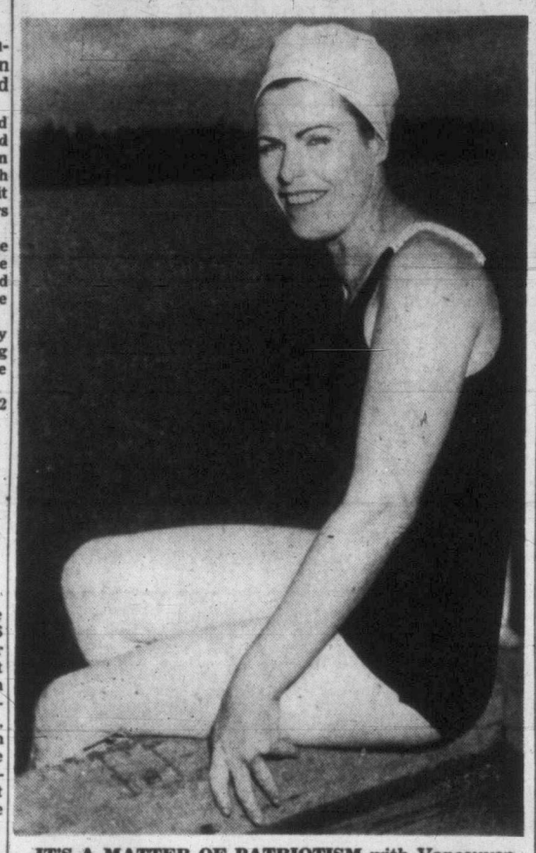
The Dominion Day holiday, Friday, will be observed by Times staff members and there will be no regular editions of the paper. Next publication will be on Saturday.

She'll Swim From Here



IT'S A MATTER OF PATRIOTISM with Vancouver distance swimmer, Mrs. Ann Meraw, 36-year-old—she'll start from the Canadian side of Juan de Fuca Strait in spite of the Port Angeles offer of $1,800 for the reverse-direction swim. Swim date is settled, will be announced day before she starts, sometime between July 5 and 12. She is training off Sidney wharf this morning.

ATOMS FOR PEACE

Too Soon for Ocean Liners

(This is another in a series of 12 articles discussing the prospects and problems of harnessing atomic power to peaceful uses. The author is a distinguished science reporter who spent a year collecting the material from which the articles were written. He has written this from a U.S. point of view, but since Canada is taking a leading part in atomic production for peacetime uses the general theme applies to this country.)

By DAVID O. WOODBURY

Chapter 5

"THE ATOM AT SEA"

We come now to the already famous submarine projects, the Nautilus and the Sea Wolf. Strange as Jules Verne fiction, it is in the depths of the sea that atomic power is to have its first real use.

The "Nautilus" was launched at Groton, Conn., on Jan. 21, 1954, and now is making her trial runs. The "Sea Wolf" is about two years behind.

There has never been a "real" submarine. All so far have been primarily surface vessels that were tight and strong enough to travel briefly under water.

Their below-surface existence has been temporary and difficult because of their prime requirement of oxygen for their Diesel engines, they have been limited to brief runs on storage batteries.

Their speed has been very poor—10 to 12 knots. At best, they have had an under-water cruising range of less than 100 miles.

The "Nautilus," however, will be a true submarine vessel, as her creator, Rear Admiral Hyman G. Rickover, USN, has dubbed her. Her atomic engines require no oxygen, and so can turn out full power beneath the sea for as long as the fuel lasts.

The uranium charge is said to be sufficient for 30,000 miles, and the "Nautilus" can use it all up without surfacing at all.

The "Nautilus" is designed to cruise down under at 20 knots and can do 25 with the control rods full out. This is close to 30 miles an hour—faster than most fish.

The atomic machinery of the "Nautilus" is a marvel of compactness that should have a profound influence on the effective design of all future reactors.

The heart of the atomic pile, with its charge of enriched uranium, is contained in a massive high-pressure drum, built to withstand 2,000 pounds per square inch.

Highly purified cooling water, pumped through it at this pressure, carries the intense heat of fission out to the heat exchanger, where it makes steam for the turbines, at 600 degrees.

When the sub is under way, every sort of safety device will protect her crew, including a "scram light."

If this flashes, the men will leave the vicinity of the reactor

UNSETTLED WEATHER GONZALES MAN SAYS

Weatherman Bill Mackie says "unsettled" conditions, with cloudy and sunny periods mixed with showers are in store for the Dominion Day week-end. It will be cool with westerly winds from 20 to 25 mph and temperatures ranging from 50 to 60 degrees.

Main July 1 attractions which could be affected by adverse weather conditions are afternoon opening of harness racing at Sandown Park and "I am a Canadian" day ceremonies at the Legislative grounds at night.

Racing opens at 2.30, with Canadian day ceremonies beginning at 7.30 p.m.

Muir Swims Saturday From Port Angeles

Saanich Surveyor To Be First To Take Off From the South Shore

Tenth assault on Juan de Fuca Strait since Florence Chadwick started the channel swim rage last August is scheduled Saturday.

Saanich municipal surveyor Bill Muir said today he will make his second attempt at beating the 18.3 miles of frigid, tide-churned water, starting from the American shore.

He plans to plunge from Ediz Hook off Port Angeles at about 7 a.m. Saturday.

Bert Thomas announced also he will make his next attempt from Port Angeles, thus attempting to capitalize on both the Times $1,000 prize and a Port Angeles Chamber of Commerce $1,800 prize for the first person to swim the distance.

LONG PLANNED

The Saanich man's plans have nothing to do with the Port Angeles prize fund announced Thursday. His intention of swimming from the U.S. shore was made known to the Times in confidence two days ago.

Muir, following the navigation of fisherman Alf Webb, made a remarkable nine-mile swim from Gonzales Point last Saturday, but gave up when cramps put his legs out of action.

WILL BE ELIGIBLE

He will be eligible, however, for the U.S. prize money as well as the $1,000 offered by the Victoria Daily Times in his Saturday swim try.

Officials in Port Angeles told the Times $400 of an $1,800 fund have been collected from Port Angeles merchants and it is hoped the full amount will have been donated by Saturday.

The $1,800 will represent $100 per mile for the 18 miles of strait water.

The full amount will be paid the first person to swim the strait starting from the U.S. side, and the $100-a-mile idea behind the fund does not mean challengers will be paid for the number of miles they swim.

NEW NAVIGATOR

Muir will have a new navigator, Harold Phillips, the man who drifted in a boat two days and nights in the strait nine years ago.

Phillips said he believes tides would be of more benefit if used in swimming south-to-north rather than the opposite direction.

"I've never been in that water over there," Muir said, "but if I do flake out this time I'll be within shouting distance of Victoria.

"If I make it from the other side maybe I'll make enough to train for a Victoria-Port Angeles swim."

OFFICIAL BOAT

All 10 Strait challengers to date have attempted the stormy crossing from this side.

Official navigator's boat for Muir will be the Atlast, which will leave Royal Victoria Yacht Club with Muir about 5 a.m. Saturday for the trip to Port Angeles.

Died Today

Agent-general in London, England, for B.C. until retirement in 1930, Frederick Arthur Pauline died here today aged 93. He was at one time Saanich MLA, Speaker of the House, city alderman and board of trade president. Funeral will be Saturday. (See story page 19).

U.S. Doubles Champs Lose To Aussies

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) —Ken Rosewall and Neale Fraser today defeated Tony Trabert of Cincinnati and Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, the victorious American team in the last Davis Cup competition, 6-2, 1-6, 6-1, 4-6, 6-3 in the semi-finals of the Wimbledon tennis championships.

The victory for the third-seeded Aussies over the top-seeded Americans assured an all-Australian doubles final.

Rosewall and Fraser will meet the winner of the other semi-final between Lew Hoad and Rex Hartwigg and Mervyn Rose and George Worthington.

The upset of Trabert and Seixas came after Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., had turned back Darlene Hard of Long Beach, Cal., 6-3, 8-6, in the first of the all-American women's singles semi-finals.

In the other women's semi-final, Mrs. Beverly Baker Fleitz of Santa Monica, Calif., scored a big upset by defeating top-seeded Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., with surprising ease, 6-3, 6-0.

Grain Needed for Poland; Guaranteed Loan By Ottawa Would Finance Purchase

OTTAWA (CP)—Communist Poland is negotiating to buy about 10,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat under a bank loan to be guaranteed by the Canadian government, it was learned today.

Negotiations, which are nearing the final stage, cover the supply of grades 4 and 5 wheat at current prices.

Informants said new negotiations may be opened at a later date covering the sale of surplus Canadian butter. Another Russian Satellite, Czechoslovakia, recently made a deal to obtain some 300,000 pounds of Canadian butter at a sharply reduced price.

Normally, Poland is not a cus-current negotiations would cover the biggest shipment to that country since the Second World War and appeared to be an indication that grain is scarce behind the Iron Curtain.

ADENAUER TO MOSCOW

BONN, Germany (UP) — A spokesman for the West German government said today Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has accepted the Soviet invitation to visit Moscow to discuss Soviet-German relations.

The spokesman said the chancellor's note of acceptance would be handed to the Soviet embassy in Paris later today.

Only Poland Negotiating So Far

First reports from London were that Russia is buying some 600,000 tons of Canadian wheat for two of her satellites: Poland and Hungary.

However, informants here said the only negotiations at present are with Poland and these are being developed directly.

Under terms of the sale, Poland likely will pay 15 per cent of the cost as a down-payment and get a loan from a Canadian bank for the remainder. The loan would be underwritten by the Canadian government.

The wheat would be shipped in two movements: the first portion in the fall of 1955 and the second in the spring of 1956.

Earlier, Alexandre Lobatchev, Russia's commercial counsellor, said he has received no instructions from Moscow to buy wheat from Canada.

At the moment, he said, Russia was interested in selling goods to Canada to earn dollars. Once the Soviet got these dollars, it would be able to buy from Canada.

He was commenting on a dispatch appearing in the London Daily Express, which said that Russia wants to buy 25,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat for early delivery. The newspaper said the price would be about said the price would be about £16,000,000.

Canadian trade department officials said also that they know of no negotiations with Russia for the sale of Canadian wheat. They said that Russia has shown almost no interest in buying Canadian goods of any kind in recent months.

Canada's Sales to Russia, Low

Last year, Russia purchased some Canadian barley and surplus pork. Total Canadian exports to the Soviet Union amounted to about $4,800,000 in 1954, up from a mere $478 in 1953. However, in the first four months of 1955, Canada's total exports to Russia mounted to a nominal $1,000.

Mr. Lobatchev said the Soviet must earn dollars in Canada to be able to buy from Canada. Russia had chemicals, cottons "and many other goods to sell." But it could find few Canadian buyers. Canada's total imports from the Soviet amounted to $687,000 in 1954, down from $824,000 in 1953. Imports consisted mostly of furs.

LONDON (CP)—The Daily Express sees Redpurchases of Canadian wheat as significant in assessing the Russian farm economy.

A New York dspatch by Rene MacColl, which the newspaper makes its main front-page story, says:

"This news means that the massive project to grow grain in the virgin lands of eastern Russia—initiated by Nikita Khrushchev, the Soviet's political boss—is faltering," MacColl writes.

". . . If Russia needs foreign wheat so badly, the farm situation in her huge experimental grainlands must be very bad."

Reports have been current for some time that Russia's agricultural situation is disappointing.

When former Soviet premier Georgi Malenkov was deposed last February, one reason given was that he had "failed in agriculture."

Golf Leader Sleeps In, Disqualified

VANCOUVER (CP)—Jimmy Clark of Laguna Beach, Calif., who fired a brilliant 66 Wednesday for second place in the opening 18 holes of the $15,000 B.C. open, was disqualified today when he failed to show up for his starting time.

Ray O'Brien, president of the U.S. Professional Golfers' Association and the man in charge of the tournament, said Clark slept in at his hotel and was automatically disqualified.

Tommy Bolt of Houston, Tex., held a temporary lead at the 27-hole mark wiht a six-under par 103.

NO CROSSWORD WINNER; PRIZE GOES UP TO $200

Times crossworders for the fifth straight week failed to come up with a correct solution to last week's puzzle. As a result the bonus prize for the new puzzle, which appears on page 18, is $200.

Because of the holiday tomorrow the answer to the last puzzle, No. 117, which usually appears Fridays, will be carried in Saturday's editions.

March on London Planned By Strikers

LONDON (UP) — Rebellious dock strikers in northern British ports announced today a 10-day 200-mile "March on London" to protest back-to-work orders by the powerful Trades Union Congress.

Britain Proposes East, West Both Guarantee German Frontier

LONDON (UP)—Britain has conceived a new European security plan calling on both Russia and the West to guarantee the frontiers of a united Germany against any aggression, informed sources disclosed today.

The plan, drafted by Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden and his top advisers, would leave the tricky question of Germany's final boundaries open for future settlement.

The major powers of both East and West would agree under the plan to act together against any state which attacked Germany after she has been reunited, the sources said.

The details of the plan are being completed for discussion with the United States and France before the start of the Geneva Big Four meeting, the sources said.

Death Sentence Commuted

OTTAWA (BUP)—The death sentence of Annunziato Tripodi, 33-year-old immigrant who murdered his wife two hours after he had brought her out from Italy, today was commuted to life imprisonment. Tripodi, father of two children, had been sentenced to be hanged July 5.

The justice department announced the cabinet's decision to commute the death sentence.

Three Tacomans Lost in Plane

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP)—A single-engine airplane with three Tacoma, Wash., men aboard is reported missing in rugged mountain country of northwestern Montana.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration identified the three as Phil Myers, pilot, and Clarence Hebel and Harvey Preszler.

Myers filed a flight plan Tuesday at Kalispell, 150 miles north of Missoula, saying he was going uranium hunting. He had planned to return to Kalispell that night.

No Butter Gift for Colombo Lands

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent today rejected an opposition suggestion that the government contribute surplus butter to the Colombo Plan instead of selling it to a Communist country.

It has been found southeast Asian countries receiving aid under the Colombo Plan do not want butter in the form in which it is processed in Canada.

President Tito met Nehru at the beflagged Zemun airport where the Indian arrived in a special plane sent to bring him to Yugoslovia from Austria. Despite intermittent rain approximately half of Belgrade's 500,000 population turned out to greet the Indian.

Fake Marriage Arranger Acquitted

HULL, Que. (CP)—Judge Jacques Boucher today dismissed a rape charge against 18-year-old Jean-Guy Lacroix, ruling that there was insufficient evidence to commit him for trial.

He gave the ruling following a secret preliminary hearing Wednesday at which public were barred from the court and newspaper men ordered not to report the evidence.

Lacroix was arrested and charged after legal authorities told the story of a 17-year-old Ottawa girl who, they said, was tricked into going through part of a marriage ceremony in a Roman Catholic church

Socreds Win In Alberta; Majority Cut

EDMONTON (CP)—Alberta's Social Credit government faced a stronger opposition today as it continued on the road leading to a quarter-century of uninterrupted power.

The party which has governed Alberta for 20 years was returned for its sixth consecutive term in Wednesday's general election with a mandate which will carry it through the next four or five years with a firm majority.

But the Liberals who formed the official opposition in the last House gained strength and increased their popular vote at the expense of the Social Credit forces.

When counting ended Wednesday night this was the party standing compared with the result of the 1952 election:

	1955	1952
SC	32	52
Lib	6	4
PC	1	2
Lib-PC	1	—
Cin	1	—
Ind	1	—
Ind-SC	—	1
CCF	1	2
Dbtfl	18	—
Total	61	61

The Social Credit popular vote decreased to 49 per cent from 56 per cent while the Liberal popular increased to 30 from 22 per cent

It was Social Credit's fourth election victory under the leadership of Premier E. C. Manning, who combines religious work with politics. He took over after the death in 1943 of William Aberhart, who founded the Social Credit party in Alberta and led it in the 1935 sweep.

MINISTER DEFEATED

Mr. Manning and Liberal leader J. Harper Prowse were re-elected. It was Mr. Prowse's third election since he took over the party leadership in 1947. Liberals have been out of power since 1921.

Eight cabinet ministers were returned. But Lands and Forests Minister Ivan Casey was defeated in Okotoks-High River by Ross Ellis, a Liberal-Progressive Conservative.

Flood Peak Saturday

VANCOUVER (CP) — Dike patrols are maintaining a round-the-clock watch on British Columbia's rivers, swollen by the annual mountain runoff and five straight days of rain.

Some flash flooding was reported as small creeks and rivers spilled over their banks but major rivers appeared under control.

J. L. MacDonald, B.C. diking commissioner, said he was confident dikes strengthened after the disastrous 1948 flood will withstand the onrushing waters.

He said present indications were the river would peak at about 23 feet at Mission by Saturday. The dikes are built to withstand a 27-foot level.

She'll Swim From Here

IT'S A MATTER OF PATRIOTISM with Vancouver distance swimmer, 36-year-old Mrs. Ann Meraw,—she'll start from the Canadian side of Juan de Fuca Strait in spite of the Port Angeles offer of $1,800 for the reverse-direction swim. Swim date is settled, will be announced day before she starts, sometime between July 5 and 12. She is training off Sidney wharf.

ATOMS FOR PEACE

Too Soon for Ocean Liners

(This is another in a series of 12 articles discussing the prospects and problems of harnessing atomic power to peaceful uses. The author is a distinguished science reporter who spent a year collecting the material from which the articles were written. He has written this from a U.S. point of view, but since Canada is taking a leading part in atomic production for peacetime uses the general theme applies to this country.)

Chapter 5

We come now to the already famous submarine projects, the Nautilus and the Sea Wolf. Strange as Jules Verne fiction, it is in the depths of the sea that atomic power is to have its first real use.

The "Nautilus" was launched at Groton, Conn., on Jan. 21, 1954, and now is making her trial runs. The "Sea Wolf" is about two years behind.

There has never been a "real" submarine. All so far have been primarily surface vessels that were tight and strong enough to travel briefly under water.

Their below-surface existence has been temporary and difficult because of their prime requirement of oxygen for their Diesel engines, they have been limited to brief runs on storage batteries.

Their speed has been very poor—10 to 12 knots. At best, they have had an under-water cruising range of less than 100 miles.

The "Nautilus," however, will be a true submarine vessel, as her creator, Rear Admiral Hyman G. Rickover, USN, has dubbed her. Her atomic engines require no oxygen, and so can turn out full power beneath the sea for as long as the fuel lasts.

The uranium charge is said to be sufficient for 30,000 miles, and the "Nautilus" can use it all up without surfacing at all.

The "Nautilus" is designed to cruise down under at 20 knots and can do 25 with the control rods full out. This is close to 30 miles an hour—faster than most fish.

The atomic machinery of the "Nautilus" is a marvel of compactness that should have a profound influence on the effective design of all future reactors.

The heart of the atomic pile, with its charge of enriched uranium, is contained in a massive high-pressure drum, built to withstand 2,000 pounds per square inch.

Highly purified cooling water, pumped through it at this pressure, carries the intense heat of fission out to the heat exchanger, where it makes steam for the turbines, at 600 degrees.

When the sub is under way, every sort of safety device will protect her crew, including a "scram light."

If this flashes, the men will leave the vicinity of the reactor

$19 Million Order Goes from Vancouver

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian government has agreed to guarantee a bank loan to be used by Communist Poland in the purchase of 10,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat, it was learned today.

Negotiations now have been completed and the wheat will start moving from Vancouver next fall, informants said. They estimated the deal at $19,000,000—the biggest Canadian grain sale to the Communists in post-war years.

15% IN CASH

Poland will put up 15 per cent in cash and get the other $16,000,000 or so from an undisclosed Canadian bank. The Canadian government will guarantee payment. In other words, if Poland doesn't meet instalments, payment will come out of the federal treasury.

The wheat would be shipped in two movements: the first portion in the fall of 1955 and the second in the spring of 1956.

Earlier, Alexandre Lobatchev, Russia's commercial counsellor, said he has received no instructions from Moscow to buy wheat from Canada.

At the moment, he said, Russia was interested in selling goods to Canada to earn dollars. Once the Soviet got these dollars, it would be able to buy from Canada.

He was commenting on a dispatch appearing in the London Daily Express which said that Russia wants to buy 25,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat for early delivery. The newspaper said the price would be about £16,000,000.

Canadian trade department officials said also that they know of no negotiations with Russia for the sale of Canadian wheat. They said that Russia has shown almost no interest in buying Canadian

Snead Fires Neat 66

Shares B.C. Golf Lead With Bolt

VANCOUVER (CP) — Slamming Sammy Snead bounced back into contention in the $15,000 B.C. Open at Shaughnessy today by carving out a six-under-par 66 for a 36-hole total of 137.

Among the early finishers, Snead was tied at the half-way mark of the 72-hole tournament with Tommy Bolt of Houston, Tex., and Ken Towns of Tacoma, Wash.

Bolt fired a two-under-par 70 today to go with his first round 67 and Towns, playing consistently, came in with a 68 to go with his 69 for the first 18.

Bob Rosburg of San Francisco, the first round leader with a 65, was four under par after 12 holes. Rosburg started off the back nine with a flourish, nailing three birdies in a row.

Jimmy Clark of Laguna Beach, Calif., who was second to Rosburg Wednesday with a 66, was disqualified today when he slept in at his hotel and didn't arrive for his set starting time.

Snead, who finished well off the pace with a 71 for the first 18 holes, played sparkling golf today for his 66.

Bolt played steady golf for his 70 but found the greens—dampened by intermittent rain—difficult to control.

Three strokes back of Bolt and Snead at 140 were slender Gardiner Dickinson, St. Andrews, Ill., and Tom Boucher, Walla Walla, Wash.

Boucher checked in with a fine 67 after an opening round 73.

Bob Wylie of Calgary, Alta., was next among the early finishers with 69-72—141.

Muir Swims Saturday From Port Angeles

Saanich Surveyor To Be First To Take Off From the South Shore

Tenth assault on Juan de Fuca Strait since Florence Chadwick started the channel swim rage last August is scheduled Saturday.

Saanich municipal surveyor Bill Muir said today he will make his second attempt at beating the 18.3 miles of frigid, tide-churned water, starting from the American shore.

He plans to plunge from Ediz Hook off Port Angeles at about 7 a.m. Saturday.

Bert Thomas announced also he will make his next attempt from Port Angeles, thus attempting to capitalize on both the Times $1,000 prize and a Port Angeles Chamber of Commerce $1,800 prize for the first person to swim the distance.

The Saanich man's plans have nothing to do with the Port Angeles prize fund announced Thursday. His intention of swimming from the U.S. shore was made known to the Times in confidence two days ago.

Muir, following the navigation of fisherman Alf Webb, made a remarkable nine-mile
